The New York Jets take great pride in playing an active role and making a year-round commitment to the New York Tri-State community. The Jets' players, coaches, alumni and front office staff, along with their corporate and community partners, are dedicated to supporting civic and community charities including hunger initiatives, encouraging education and fitness and reaching out to disadvantaged youth and families to make a lasting impact.

In 2003 the Jets dedicated themselves to more than 200 community appearances and supported almost 2,400 organizations with monetary, merchandise, and memorabilia donations. The following is a recap of various New York Jets' community initiatives in 2003.

NEW YORK JETS' COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

Alliance for Lupus Research

The New York Jets' organization is deeply committed to supporting the Alliance for Lupus Research (ALR), an independent non-profit organization dedicated to raising the profile of lupus and the scope of lupus research. The ALR was founded in 1999 through the vision of Woody Johnson and the support of the Arthritis Foundation. The ALR has one mission – to prevent, treat and cure lupus through research.

The Jets take an active role in fundraising for the ALR. Events such as the annual Walk with Us to Cure Lupus program (a series of 5K fundraising walks), New York Jets Kickoff Luncheon and the "Jets Dream" holiday tree ornament (launched in 2002) are but a few of the ways the Jets are helping the ALR to raise much needed funds which support researchers investigating new approaches in fighting lupus. On Saturday, May 15, 2004, Jets players, coaches and fans joined the Johnson family and those whose lives have been touched by lupus to walk in the ALR's inaugural Long Island Walk with Us to Cure Lupus 5K walk held in Eisenhower Park. New York Jets' Owner Woody Johnson, Executive Vice President/General Manager Terry Bradway and Head Coach Herman Edwards led the fundraising and awareness walk while Bradway's wife, Kathy Bradway and Edwards' wife, Lia Edwards, served as the honorary co-chairs for the walk and helped more than 500 participants raise well over $100,000.

The Jets were also out in full force to support the second annual New Jersey Walk with Us to Cure Lupus walk at the Meadowlands Sports Complex on June 27, 2004.

Lupus, an autoimmune disease in which the body's immune system turns against itself and harms healthy cells and tissue, is characterized by chronic inflammation and can cause life-threatening involvement of major organs such as the kidneys, lungs, heart and nervous system. According to the National Institutes of Health, nine out of ten people with lupus are women. It often appears during the childbearing years of 15 to 45, is three times more common in African-American women than in Caucasian women and is also more common in women of Hispanic, Asian and Native American descent.

Since its inception, the ALR has committed more than $24 million to lupus research. Their approach is distinctive – to take advantage of the growing opportunities in the field of lupus and bring about significant new advances faster than ever before – all to help the many individuals and families living with lupus. Together... we can find a cure.

Muscular Dystrophy Association

In 2003 the New York Jets continued their partnership with the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) by creating awareness and raising funds with a performance-based donation program and included three events featuring "Jerseys off Their Backs" fundraisers and appearances.

The Jets hosted three "Jerseys off Their Backs" fundraisers to benefit the MDA this season. The event created public awareness and financial support for the MDA. As a result of the three events, $55,000 was raised to benefit MDA.

The Muscular Dystrophy Association is a dedicated partnership between scientists and concerned citizens aimed at conquering neuromuscular diseases. MDA is one of the world's leading national health agencies, fostering research and patient care. MDA's programs are funded almost entirely by individual private contributors. The Association does not seek or receive government grants or United Way funds. As part of its worldwide research efforts, MDA currently supports 19 research projects in the Tri-State area. There are four MDA clinics within Manhattan, as well as 11 additional clinics in the Metro New York area. These clinics offer medical services to children, adults and their families affected with any of the 43 forms of neuromuscular disease covered by MDA. These services include: diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitative care, physical, occupational and respiratory therapy consultations, assistance with the purchase and repairs of wheelchairs, leg braces and scooters, flu inoculations, support groups, genetic counseling, recreational activities and summer camp programs.

For more information on the Muscular Dystrophy Association, please visit their Website at www.mdausa.org.

Ronald McDonald House of Long Island

To accommodate the ever-growing number of families in need, the New York Jets formed a community partnership with the Ronald McDonald House of Long Island (RMHLI) to assist in the fundraising for a $5 million expansion construction to the current Ronald McDonald House of Long Island. The expansion consists of a 24-bedroom extension and bathrooms; additional play areas, bigger kitchens, pantries, laundry rooms and additional parking.

As part of the partnership the Jets Annual Alumni Golf Outing, held during Jets Alumni Weekend (August 14-16), raised more than $20,000 to benefit the Ronald McDonald House of Long Island. In addition to Alumni Weekend, running backs B.J. Askew and LaMont Jordan, tight end Anthony Becht, linebackers Sam Cowart and Victor Hobson and offensive lineman Jonathan Goodwin along with Executive Vice President/ General Manager Terry Bradway and Senior Vice President of Football Operations/ Assistant General Manager Mike Tannenbaum formed a softball team to take on the RMHLI's Sports Festival winners at a fundraising event on June 9.

Since opening in 1986, the House has served more than 7,000 families from across the United States and more than 62 countries worldwide. The majority of the families served are from Nassau and Suffolk counties and the boroughs of Queens, Brooklyn, Staten Island, the Bronx and Manhattan. For more information on the Ronald McDonald House of Long Island, visit their Website at www.rmhliongisland.org.

United Way

On May 6, 2004, the United Way of New York City recognized Jets' tackle Kareem McKenzie as the Club's 2004 Hometown Hero. McKenzie accepted the award at the Gridiron Gala – a United Way/NFL Partnership Awards Dinner – at New York City's Grand Hyatt. McKenzie is also the Ambassador of Jets Academy II at East Village Community School in New

Linebacker Victor Hobson at the Highbridge Recreation Center for Hometown Huddle

York City. He frequently visits the school and attends field trips with the students. The humble McKenzie appreciated the Hometown Hero Award, but feels his support of the program is just reciprocation. "It means a lot, but in the same sense, you don't do it for the awards and the accolades," McKenzie said. "You do it because there is a feeling of need within yourself to go out, work in the community and to give back. It's important because the community supports us one way or another and we have to support them in return." The proceeds from the dinner support United Way programs for children and youth. It's estimated that $20,000 of the proceeds will benefit the Jets Academy and will be given in honor of McKenzie, the Jets Academy II Ambassador.

The Hometown Heroes awards were created to recognize the outstanding generosity of volunteers within the NFL and to encourage volunteerism. The awards were given at the Annual United Way of New York City/NFL Partnership dinner in the Imperial Ballroom at the Sheraton New York Hotel and Towers. The 2003 event celebrated the 30th year of the partnership between the National Football League and United Way of America, the national training and development organization for local United Ways such as United Way of New York City.

The event drew more than 700 supporters and raised $1 million for United Way of New York City's Community Fund.

In 2003, the New York Jets "Tix For Kids" program provided more than 1,700 tickets to be distributed to mentoring agencies. The "Tix For Kids" program provides a vehicle for season ticket holders to release unused game tickets to the United Way of New York City, which are then made available to underprivileged children through their mentoring agencies. Accompanied by a mentor, the child is granted an opportunity to attend a New York Jets football game. Jets season ticket holders donated over 400 more tickets in 2003 than in the program's inaugural 2002 season.

The United Way of New York City network of mentoring agencies include Mentoring USA, The Mentoring Partnership of New York, The Children's Aid Society, Boys and Girls Clubs, Big Brothers Big Sisters and more.

The New York Jets also participate in Hometown Huddle, a League wide initiative with the United Way. In 2003, quarterback Brooks Bollinger along with linebacker Victor Hobson and Kenyatta Wright attended the opening of the computer lab, donated by the Jets and Giants through a grant from NFL Charities, at the Highbridge Recreation Center in Washington Heights, NY. Hometown Huddle is a program in which all 32 NFL teams simultaneously work in the community through its United Way partnerships. Quarterback Chad Pennington serves as the Club's United Way Spokesperson.

Public School Athletic League

In 2001 the New York Jets formed a community partnership with the Public School Athletic League (PSAL) to provide support to New York City public school's football programs.

During the course of 2003, the Jets and the Public School Athletic League (PSAL) teamed up on numerous events including the Club's Youth Football Clinic in Central Park. PSAL football coaches assisted the Jets coaching staff in providing 250 kids with a day of football and fun.

Throughout the season high school football coaches from the PSAL attended Jets' practices weekly. This provided coaches the opportunity to view a professional practice and pickup valuable coaching techniques from the Jets' coaching staff.

There were 75 players and coaches of the Tottenham Eagles recognized with an on-field presentation at the Jets' December 14 game vs. the Steelers as the Public School Athletic League football champions.

NEW YORK JETS' COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

Generation Jets Academy

Generation Jets Academy has served as the linchpin of the New York Jets' community relations program since its inception in 2002. An education initiative, the primary goal of Generation Jets Academy is to provide elementary school students with enjoyable learning experiences that enhance their literacy, math skills, creativity, community awareness and self-esteem. The program provides students with personalized attention from caring and creative teachers, as well as a 50% increase in learning time each day.

New York Jets' Chairman and CEO Woody Johnson, Club President Jay Cross and Executive Director of the Brooklyn Bureau of Community Service (BBCS) Donna Santarsiero were all on hand to receive a $50,000 donation from the New York Mercantile Exchange Charitable Foundation for the Clubs' Generation Jets Academy II site located at East Village Community School in New York City. The check was presented during a program by Madeline Boyd, Chairman of the New York Mercantile Exchange Foundation Committee, to kickoff a three-year $150,000 commitment by NYMEX to support Generation Jets Academy II. Generation Jets Academy I cheerleaders performed at the event that took place at the East Village Community School located in New York City on December 9.

Tackle Kareem McKenzie has been named the ambassador of Generation Jets Academy II. As ambassador, McKenzie makes appearances at the school as well as attending field trips with the students.

On October 1, 2002 Jets' Chairman and CEO Woody Johnson, along with Club President Jay Cross, presented Donna Santarsiero, Executive Director of the Brooklyn Bureau of Community Service with a $50,000 check to kickoff the Generation Jets Academy I site located at the Ethan Allen School in East New York, Brooklyn.

Tackle Kareem McKenzie at Generation Jets Academy II site, East Village Community School

Generation Jets Academy is a collaborative education initiative with the Brooklyn Bureau of Community Service and Gary Klinsky Children Centers. "We are blessed with being able to go into an existing program without having to start from scratch," said Club President Jay Cross. "It's a perfect complement to the Jets' overall community platform which by definition is very youth-oriented and focuses on academics and athletics."

Jets' Kickoff Luncheon

In its fourth year, the Jets Kickoff Luncheon is held at the world famous Grand Ballroom at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City. The event serves as a fundraiser for a specific Jets charity or program every year. The luncheon is the only yearly event that is attended by every coach and player in the organization. New York Jets' Chairman and CEO Woody Johnson and noted alumni,

NFL Network's Rich Eisen with Jets' Chairman and CEO Woody Johnson at Jets' Kickoff Luncheon including Hall of Fame quarterback Joe Namath, gathered together at the world famous Grand Ballroom at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City on August 27 for the third annual Jets' Kickoff Luncheon. The luncheon celebrated four decades of Jets football and helped rally support in the fight against lupus. Lupus is a devastating autoimmune disease that affects predominately young women in the prime of their lives. The luncheon raised more than 1.4 million dollars to benefit the Alliance for Lupus Research. One hundred percent of proceeds from the luncheon will benefit the Alliance for Lupus Research's innovative research programs aimed at preventing, treating and curing the disease.

Woody Johnson and Jets' Head Coach Herman Edwards co-chaired the event while NFL Network lead anchor Rich Eisen performed as the master of ceremonies.

"Although research conducted in the past few years has led to a greater understanding of lupus, there are still many unanswered questions," said Mr. Johnson. "The Alliance for Lupus Research is committed to funding the type of innovative, targeted research that will ensure not only that progress continues, but also that we discover ways to improve, extend and even save the lives of those diagnosed with the disease in the quickest manner possible."

Inaugural Herm Edwards Golf Classic

The New York Jets hosted the inaugural Herm Edwards Golf Classic on June 7, 2004 at the Piping Rock Country Club in Locust Valley, NY. More than 25 members of the New York Jets, including quarterback Chad Pennington, five-time Pro Bowl center Kevin Mawae and wide receivers Wayne Chrebet and Santana Moss were in attendance with Head Coach Herman Edwards and Owner Woody Johnson for the event. All proceeds from the event benefited Generation Jets Academy.

The golf classic included both a live and silent auction in addition to a raffle and competitive prizes. Prizes for the event included being an extra on the King of Queens, two trips for two on the Jets' charters to San Diego and Arizona, a Chad Pennington autographed jersey, a Santana Moss autographed jersey and an autographed jersey of 2003-04 NBA Rookie of the Year LeBron James.

"Jets Taste of the NFL Celebrity Dinner"

On May 4, 2004 the New York Jets hosted the second annual "New York Jets Taste of the NFL Celebrity Dinner." The event, held at Bridgewater at the South Street Seaport in New York City, raised more than $115,000 for ShopRite Partner's In Caring, a charitable fund founded by ShopRite supermarkets.

New York City's finest chefs volunteered their time, culinary expertise and food and teamed up with current Jets stars. Five-time Pro Bowl center Kevin Mawae, team MVP Santana Moss and star running back Curtis Martin were among the group of Jet players in attendance for the evening. In addition, former Jets star running back Freeman McNeil gave some of his time to help out at the event. The star-studded evening presented by ShopRite, Kraft and Nabisco was enjoyed by more than 600 guests who had the opportunity to mingle and get autographs from all the players in attendance. Funds raised through event ticket sales and the silent auction are distributed to local food banks, as well as hunger-relief agencies in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware and Pennsylvania.

Newspaper in Education Programs (NIE)

Jets Geography, partnered with the New York Daily News, is a geography-based lesson plan that incorporates the cities/states of Jets' opponents. The 11-year-old program, is supported by a player visit once a month throughout the season and is open to classes in all five New York City boroughs, Long Island and Northern New Jersey. This past season linebacker Kenyatta Wright visited PS 280 in the Bronx, kicker Doug Brien visited George Westinghouse High School in Brooklyn, running backs Jerald Sowell visited IS 126 in Manhattan and B.J. Askew visited Lincoln High School in Jersey City, and safety Derek Pagel visited PS 148 in East Elmhurst as apart of the program.

Every Tuesday teachers are provided with lesson plans that correspond with the full-page feature in the New York Daily News that meets mandated education standards. The program has averaged more than 11,000 student participants over the past 11 seasons.

Kicker Doug Brien at George Westinghouse High School

2003 was the seventh season for the Football Fanfare/Kid Reporter of the Week Program with The Star Ledger (NJ). The program featured a quarter page in the paper every Wednesday during the season with football related assignments for students in grades 4-12 to complete. The Jets hosted two students from New Jersey schools at every home game as members of the press, with the exception of Tennessee (too late at night). The students are selected from within 12 New Jersey counties to attend the game as a member of the press. Both students are granted an exclusive player interview that is published in the Wednesday edition of The Star Ledger. More than 25,000 students participate in the program each year. As a wrap-up for the program, students from Thomas Jefferson Elementary School, Sharon Laconi Great Meadows Middle School and Steve O'Hara St. Cecelia's were invited to an event held in the Meadowlands press box.

The Jets Readers Club is an NIE program in its third year. The Jets, Newsday and PC Richard & Son team up to promote the Jets Readers Club, a reading incentive program open to grades 4-8 in Nassau, Suffolk, Queens and Brooklyn. The program featured five pages, with lesson plans, printed for educators. Five classes were selected as winners from the 2002 program and invited to attend an afternoon of reading and trivia at The Scholastic Store located in New York City on. Classes that were unable to attend the event in New York City received separate class visits during the year. Cornerback Ray Mickens and running back Jerald Sowell visited Rosemary Segerdahl's class at Shore Road School in Bellmore. Linebacker Jason Glenn along with defensive linemen Jason Ferguson and Shaun Ellis visited Sheila Brennan's class at James Dever School in Valley Stream. Tight end James Dearth visited Karen Ponzo's class at IS 227 in East Elmhurst.

Jets Women's Organization (JWO)

The Jets Women's Organization is an organization comprised of the wives, fiancées and significant others of New York Jets players, coaches and select football support staff members. The Jets' Community relations department oversees this organization with the assistance of the Head Coach's wife, Lia Edwards. Founded in 2001, the mission of the organization is to build goodwill in the Tri-State community through active volunteer participation.

In 2003, the Jets Women's Organization in conjunction with the New York Jets and St. Mary's Children and Families Foundation, presented the fourth annual Fashion Show at The Carlton located in Eisenhower Park, East Meadow, NY on October 9. Danielle Monaro of New York's No. 1-rated radio morning show, Elvis Duran & the Z Morning Zoo Crew on Z100, hosted the Fashion Show. All proceeds from the event benefited St. Mary's Children and Family Services, Inc.

Members of the Jets Women's Organization, along with tight end Anthony Becht, running backs Jerald Sowell and B.J. Askwew and defensive backs Jon McGraw, Aaron Beasley and Jamie Henderson modeled fashions by Saks Fifth Avenue of Garden City and Formal Knight in Deer Park. The event raised more than $20,000 for St. Mary's Children and Family Services, Inc. Jets' offensive lineman Jason Fabini and defensive backs Donnie Abraham and Ray Mickens also attended the event.

"The Fashion Show is in its fourth year, but this marked the second straight year the JWO has been involved," said Lia Edwards. "It was a perfect way for our players and their wives and the rest of their families to get involved with something important, using us as celebrity models. St. Mary's is a great charity. We have probably doubled the amount of people attending this event since we came aboard."

"We became involved because it is a great event and I don't think very many people know about the Jets' Women's Organization," said Daniel Monaro from Z100 Elvis Duran & the Z Morning Zoo Crew. "I think that more people should know about the JWO because they do so much in the community. It is such a great cause. There are not many teams around here that have an organization for the wives to get involved in the community, doing things for kids, doing things for charity."

Again in 2003 the JWO was an instrumental part of the Jets' Community Relations initiatives. Their contributions included: hosting

JWO at Breast Cancer Awareness Day

Breast Cancer Awareness Day at the Meadowlands, hosting children from the Hempstead Boys and Girls Club during training camp, volunteering to serve meals at the Interfaith Nutrition Network soup kitchen in Hempstead, NY and hosting a holiday party for clients of Nassau County Coalition against Domestic Violence and their families. The JWO was again supported by Davis Vision in 2003.

Jets Community Quarterback

In 2003, the New York Jets awarded the Community Quarterback Award to Geneva Johnson of the Bronx, NY as the winner of the PARADE New York Jets Community Quarterback Award, a national volunteer recognition program that donates nearly $1 million to community organizations served by outstanding volunteers.

A grant of $10,000 will be donated in Johnson's name to the Urban Neighborhood Educational Technology for You, Inc., for which she volunteers.

Geneva Johnson is a volunteer for the Urban Neighborhood Educational Technology for You, Inc. She volunteered 234 hours in 2003, despite taking on her full high school course load and running her own business. In an attempt to combat the images of drug dealers and gangs in her community, Johnson, at the age of 15, began the Hamilton Art Gallery, through the Urban Neighborhood Educational Technology for You, Inc., as a model to inspire potential youth entrepreneurs. The Hamilton Art Gallery provides the youth in Johnson's community an opportunity to participate and inquire about entrepreneurship practices and procedures. Johnson has spoken at many community functions including on the Youth Expo Panel at the Borough of Manhattan Community College as a "Youth Entrepreneur" and at the Mission Society of New York at the Girls Leadership Council along with anchorwoman Dana Tyler of CBS.

PARADE and the NFL partnered for the first time this year to honor outstanding volunteers across the country with the Community Quarterback Award. Funded by NFL Charities, the NFL Community Quarterback Award recognizes community and youth volunteers who demonstrate leadership, dedication and a commitment to bettering their communities. NFL Charities will donate grants to the non-profit establishments served by the award winners. Since 1973, NFL Charities has donated more than $45 million in grant commitments to 250 organizations.

Munson, in his 12th season as the coach of his alma-mater Tottenville, has compiled a 75-51-2 career record. During his stint with Tottenville, Coach Munson has won two New York City Public School Athletic League Championships.

Munson's Pirates defeated Canarsie High School 28-24 to win the 2003 New York City Public School Athletic League Championship. The win capped a 12-0 season for the Pirates.

A League wide initiative, the High School Coach of the Week Program aids in the development of youth football. It gives high school coaches the recognition they deserve, and provides high schools with financial assistance in maintaining and upgrading their football programs.

2003 marked the eighth season the Jets have participated in the High School Coach of the Week Program. Locally, the Jets' award is given weekly during the season to a coach in the Tri-State area who serves the best interests of the game through the teaching of sound football fundamentals, the motivation of young players to achieve, and the promotion of youth football by way of dedication to his community, his school and his student-athletes. High school football reporter Mike Quick of the MSG Network and the New York Jets' Community Relations department select the winner. Each winner is recognized on MSG's High School Sports Weekly on Wednesday nights as well as being awarded $1,000 for his high school's football program from NFL Charities. New York Jets' Blood Drive

The New York Jets, in partnership with Long Island Blood Services (LIBS), hosted two blood drives in 2003 that averaged 80 pints of blood.

The first was held on May 5 on the campus of Hofstra University in the student center with linebacker Kenyatta Wright, cornerback Donnie Abraham and wide receiver Santana Moss in attendance to sign autographs and greet the donors. The second blood drive took place during the Club's training camp on August 6. Those who donated on August 6 received a pair of tickets to the Jets' preseason game versus the Bengals.

Long Island Blood Services is a division of the New York Blood Center (NYBC). One-hundred percent of the blood received by the LIBS goes to hospitals throughout Queens, Nassau and Suffolk counties.

NEW YORK JETS' YOUTH FOOTBALL PROGRAMS

Fantasy Youth Football

The New York Jets' Fantasy Youth Football program allows local youth football teams the opportunity to walk through the halls of Weeb Ewbank Hall, the Club's Long Island training complex. Teams given this opportunity get a first hand view of the players' locker room, meeting rooms, training room, weight room and press room. The tour is concluded with a photo opportunity of the children with the Jets' Super Bowl III trophy.

Youth Football Training Camp

In 2003, the New York Jets hosted 159 players and coaches from youth football teams as VIP's at Training Camp and Jets Fest (the Club's interactive football theme park). Jets Fest VIP's were given reserved seating in the bleachers to view practice, gift bags and an on-site Jets representative to act as a liaison during their visit. Training Camp VIP's will receive passes to view practice from the "Family/Friends Sideline," a Jets gift bag and an on-site Jets representative.

Youth Football Game Day Experience

On game day in 2003, the New York Jets hosted 10 youth football teams to participate in the annual pre-game and half-time shows. Each pre-game show includes bus transportation to and from the Meadowlands, 8-minutes of game play, followed by the team forming a player tunnel for NYJ player introductions, boxed lunches and a complimentary VHS tape and CD of pictures from their performance. If the team is there as a part of the halftime show, they also have the opportunity to use the VIP bubble to watch the game. In 2004, the Jets hope to extend the Game Day Experience to other teams throughout the Tri-State area.

The New York Jets are proud to assist the League in its effort to help youth learn more about football.

Jets Junior Player Development (J.P.D.)

The National Football League has developed an introductory/developmental youth tackle football program for boys ages 12-14. The program is taught by NFL selected high school coaches from the community and is designed to teach each participant every position on the field. It is done through a step-by-step instruction of skills with a fun and entertaining manner. A life skills/character development curriculum is incorporated through all on-field activities to provide counseling for all participants.

High School Player Development (H.S.P.D.)

The High School Player Development program was established to provide academic counseling and specific football skill training by position to high school sophomores, juniors and seniors. Each participant gains full awareness of what is necessary to become a successful student athlete at the collegiate level, along with the resources and information to meet NCAA Clearinghouse requirements.

Punt, Pass and Kick

This national competition was established in 1961 for boys and girls ages 8-15. The free skills competition tests punting, passing and placekicking ranges. This season the New York Jets will honor the first player in professional football history to be selected to the Pro Bowl at three different positions (DE, NT and DT) when they retire his #73 jersey. Joe Klecko will become just the third New York Jet to have his number retired, joining Hall of Fame quarterback Joe Namath and Hall of Fame wide receiver Don Maynard. He also will join Hall of Fame Coach and Administrator Weeb Ewbank, whose coaching jacket was retired in a ceremony by the team.

Joe Klecko, Jr. was born on October 15, 1953 in Chester, PA, a working class suburb of Philadelphia. He was the third of four children born to Joseph and Josephine Klecko. The family was active in the local Polish-American community and belonged to the Polish parish, St. Hedwig's. Joe Jr.'s father, the son of Polish immigrants, was an outstanding athlete in his era who was forced to leave school during the Depression but maintained his passion for sports throughout his life. Like his father, Joe Jr. enjoyed athletics but preferred sandlot sports to school sports so he could have more time to work and pursue his passion for cars.

Klecko's football career at St. James High was too brief to attract the interest of college recruiters when he graduated in 1971. Ironically, Joe wasn't interested in college football simply because of the fact that he was earning good money driving trucks. He kept involved in sports by playing for local baseball and softball teams. Joe even tried boxing, having trained at Joe Frazier's gym in Philadelphia. Klecko once sparred with the former heavyweight champion, and in a typical Joe Klecko moment, stated that "one of his punches that missed was enough to convince me not to become a professional boxer."

After a few years Joe joined the semi-pro Ashton Knights football team. Joe DiGregorio, the Temple University equipment manager and a semi-pro football organizer, registered him as "Jim Jones" to protect his eligibility, even though Klecko wasn't interested in playing college football. As a 19-year-old, Klecko more than held his own with an amazing combination of strength and speed, and DiGregorio persuaded Temple to offer him a football scholarship. It took some convincing from his parents and girlfriend (and future wife), Debbie, but he finally agreed to play for the Owls.

Klecko had a good career as a middle guard on the Temple football team (and was a boxing champion as well) but wasn't highly regarded by pro football scouts. Expecting to be drafted by his hometown Philadelphia Eagles, he was picked by the New York Jets in the 6th round of the 1977 NFL Draft. He began his first training camp as a defensive tackle but because of his speed was moved to end. As a rookie, Klecko initially saw action only in passing situations but started the last five games due to injuries of teammates. He ended the year leading all NFL rookies with eight sacks.

Klecko played much of his career for Head Coach Walt Michaels, who also came from working class Polish-American roots in a small Pennsylvania town. Michaels became Head Coach in 1977 and turned the struggling Jets into a contender. Their shared Polish heritage created a special bond between the two men.

For a time, Klecko was the only bright spot on the Jets' defensive line. Within a couple of years, however, some solid drafts helped produce "The New York Sack Exchange," the nickname given to the defensive line of Klecko, Abdul Salaam, Mark Gastineau and Marty Lyons. In 1981, the Sack Exchange captured the public's imagination as it became one of the most fearsome defensive lines in NFL history.

Klecko emerged as a dominant defensive lineman, finishing the year with a league-leading 20.5 sacks, his first Pro Bowl selection and consensus NFL Player of the Year honors. The Jets made the playoffs for the first time since 1969 but lost the wild card game to Buffalo, 31-27.

Joe's down-to-earth personality made him popular with teammates and fans alike. Despite his great achievements on the football field and the adulation that followed, he always stayed true to his working class roots.

In 1982 Joe suffered a ruptured patella tendon in his right knee and played in just two regular season games. However, he worked hard following surgery to rehabilitate the knee and made a remarkable recovery to play in the playoffs. The Jets defeated Cincinnati and Oakland to make it to the AFC championship game but lost a chance to go to the Super Bowl when Miami defeated them, 14-0, on the rain-soaked field of the Orange Bowl.

Klecko moved over to defensive tackle and was named to the Pro Bowl at that position in 1983 and 1984. At 6-3, 265 lbs., his tremendous strength and quickness combined with a fierce competitiveness, made him a dominating defender who could overpower offensive linemen. "Some people call it the 'bull rush,'" said former Seattle center Blair Bush. "We call it 'The Klecko Skate' because when he hits you, it looks like you're rolling backwards on skates." But Joe was more than a great athlete. He was also a quiet- yet inspirational leader- as well as a keen student of the game.

In 1985 the Jets switched to a 3-4 alignment and Joe played nose tackle for the first time. He led the Jets in tackles with 96 and forced fumbles with five and was second in sacks with 7.5. In Bud Carson's defense Klecko didn't play the traditional way by lining up directly over the center but positioned himself on one side or the other of the ball. Joe's physical talents and football savvy allowed him to control the game from the nose tackle position. He again earned All-Pro recognition, becoming the first NFL defensive player to be selected to the Pro Bowl at three different positions. The Jets made the playoffs but were eliminated by New England.

The Jets started the 1986 season with a 10-1 record, but a series of injuries sent the team into a downward spiral. Klecko was enjoying another great year when he injured his left knee but he battled back after arthroscopic surgery in hopes of getting one last shot at the Super Bowl. However, he re-injured the knee in a late season game against Pittsburgh and could only watch as New York was knocked off in the divisional playoff by Cleveland in a double overtime game.

Klecko returned in 1987 following major reconstructive knee surgery and both he and the Jets struggled. Following a season with the Indianapolis Colts in 1988, Klecko retired from professional football.

Klecko's success on the football field opened up another arena: Hollywood. Following the 1980 season he landed a small role in the Burt Reynolds movie "Smokey and the Bandit II." He played an angry truck driver who, with his bare hand, crushes the badge of the sheriff played by the late Jackie Gleason. Klecko is listed in the credits as playing a "Polish truck driver." Joe followed it up with parts in a couple of other Reynolds' films, "Cannonball Run" and "Heat."

Klecko and his wife, Debbie, currently reside in Colts Neck, NJ, where Joe serves as a representative for various construction companies. They are the proud parents of two sons, Michael and Danny. Danny is a defensive lineman/linebacker with the New England Patriots.

WOODY JOHNSON

Chairman & CEO
Fifth Season with Jets
Fifth Season in NFL

Woody Johnson was approved by the NFL as the owner of the New York Jets in January 2000. A long-time Jets fan, Johnson became only the third owner of the Jets when he purchased the team from the estate of the late Leon Hess. During his tenure as owner, the Jets have had three winning seasons and have won an AFC Eastern Division championship.

Johnson laid the foundation of the team's current front office by quickly making a number of key decisions. In January of 2001, he named Terry Bradway General Manager and Herman Edwards the team's Head Coach. Johnson completed his management team in March 2001 when he elevated Jay Cross to President.

Johnson's ownership has been marked by his desire to lead a first-class franchise on the playing field and in the community. He is committed to building a home for the Jets in New York City as part of a new sports and convention center on Manhattan's far west side.

Johnson is also Chairman and CEO of the Johnson Company, Inc., a personal investment enterprise. He is a member of the founding family of Johnson & Johnson, the worldwide health-care company, and is a trustee of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, which is the nation's largest philanthropic organization devoted to health and health care.

In response to the illness of a family member, Johnson founded the Alliance for Lupus Research, Inc., and serves as its Chairman. The ALR is a unique institution dedicated to supporting research for the prevention, treatment, and cure for lupus. This autoimmune disease affects as many as one-million Americans, 90% of whom are women. Lupus is the leading cause of death among women with autoimmune diseases who are in their childbearing years. The hallmarks of the program are an emphasis on multi-disciplinary science and a keen focus on research that can be moved quickly from the laboratory bench to the patient's bedside.

Since its founding in 1999, the Alliance for Lupus Research has given more money to lupus research than any other non-governmental agency in the world. One hundred percent of donations support ALR's research and the Board of Directors pays the operating expenses. The organization has received the highest rating (four stars) from Capital Charity Navigator, an independent resource that evaluates the effectiveness and financial health of 2,300 charities.

Besides the Alliance for Lupus Research, the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation International has also been a focal point of Johnson's interests since he learned about his daughter's diabetes condition. He serves as chairman of the JDRF International.

He is a member of the NFL's Broadcasting Committee and Business Ventures Committee.

Johnson has three daughters and lives in New York City. He received his Bachelor's from the University of Arizona.

JAY CROSS

President

Fifth Season with Jets

Fifth Season in NFL

Jay Cross joined the New York Jets in the summer of 2000 with the assignment of developing an elite sports franchise and providing a new stadium for the Jets, who have never had a "home" of their own in their 44 years of existence.

Cross and team owner Woody Johnson have set their sights on Manhattan's far West Side where they are advancing a proposal for the New York Sports and Convention Center, which will serve as both an expansion of the Jacob Javits Convention Center and a football stadium built over the LIRR rail yards. Besides devoting his energies to developing a stadium site for the Jets, Cross oversees the Jets' business affairs, including marketing, sponsorships, financing, community relations, the Internet and broadcast opportunities.

Cross came to the Jets directly from the Miami Heat of the National Basketball Association where he was president of business operations and the driving force behind the AmericanAirlines Arena. Also in his time at the Heat, Cross led the organization to new season ticket highs and founded the Heat Academy, the nation's first after-school program founded and managed directly by a professional sports team. In the past two years, Cross has spearheaded the efforts in opening two Jets' Academies in the New York area, including PS 306 in Brooklyn and at East Village Community School in New York City.

Previously, Cross, a veteran real estate developer, was the point person for the planning stages of the Air Canada Centre—home for the NBA's Toronto Raptors and the NHL's Toronto Maple Leafs. Cross holds a Master's degree in Architectural Technology from Columbia University and a Bachelor's degree in Nuclear Engineering from the University of Toronto.

An accomplished sailor, Cross was on the Canadian Olympic Yachting teams in 1976, 1980 and 1984. He is a member of the Wolfsonian Museum, New World Symphony and Trizec Properties, a major commercial REIT. He and his wife, Devon, live in Manhattan with their two daughters.

TERRY BRADWAY

Executive Vice President and General Manager

Fourth Season with Jets

19th Season in NFL

Terry Bradway enters his fourth season with the New York Jets as the Club's General Manager and First Season as Executive Vice President. Under Bradway's leadership, the Jets won their second division championship in Club history in 2002 and have reached the postseason two of the past three seasons.

Bradway, a firm believer in building through the draft, has selected 28 players of which 26 are still with the Jets. This past offseason he brought aboard first rounder LB Jonathan Vilma and third-round choice CB Derrick Strait and was instrumental in the trade for WR Justin McCareins. Players that have made contributions from the 2003 and '02 NFL Drafts include DT Dewayne Robertson, LB Victor Hobson, FS Jon McGraw and DE Bryan Thomas.

In Bradway's first draft as GM the Jets traded up three selections to select WR Santana Moss from the University of Miami. Moss finished with 74 catches for 1,105 yards and 10 TD in his third season, on his way to being voted the team's 2003 MVP. Other key picks from Bradway's first year included RB Lamont Jordan, T Kareem McKenzie and DT James Reed.

Bradway was hired on January 11, 2001 by Jets' Chairman and CEO Woody Johnson after having worked for the Kansas City Chiefs for the previous nine seasons in the team's player personnel department. Bradway's first order of business was hiring Herman Edwards as Head Coach of the Jets. From there, Bradway and Edwards set forth to formulate a winning chemistry and revitalize the Jets' organization.

Bradway has earned a reputation as one of the top talent evaluators in the NFL after having served as KC's vice president of player personnel (2000), director of player personnel (1997-99) and director of college scouting (1992-96). He played a major role in KC's success from the time of his arrival in 1992, in particular assisting Carl Peterson, the Chiefs' President and GM, with the drafting of highly productive talent, including DB Greg Wesley, T John Tait and G Victor Riley, CB Eric Warfield, S Reggie Tongue and seven Pro Bowlers: TE Tony Gonzalez, G Will Shields, LB Donnie Edwards, WR Joe Horn, WR/KR Dante Hall, DE Gary Stills and S Jerome Woods.

Bradway also gained valuable experience evaluating professional talent and helped the Chiefs with input regarding trades and free agent acquisitions. He was part of a personnel department which acquired key talent such as RB Marcus Allen, QB Rich Gannon and Elvis Grbac, CB James Hasty, WR Derrick Alexander, LB Marcus Patton, WR Andre Rison and DE Duane Clemons. He also worked to locate rookie FA talent such as DE Eric Hicks, LB Mike Maslowski and G Brian Waters, all starters. He joined the Chiefs after spending seven years (1986-92) as a scout with the New York Giants, where he served as a valued member of the Giants' personnel department for General Manager George Young and Head Coach Bill Parcells (through the 1990 season). He was part of a personnel department that helped the Giants to Super Bowl XXI and XXV championships.

Before joining the Giants, Bradway spent three seasons (1983-85) as assistant director of player personnel for the USFL's Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars. He was part of a personnel staff that included Jim Mora as head coach, Vince Tobin as defensive coordinator and Dom Capers as defensive backs coach. Together they helped guide the Club to a league-best 48-13-1 overall record, three championship game appearances and two USFL titles.

Bradway started his football career by serving as WR coach at the University of Cincinnati in 1978 and as RB coach at the United States Merchant Marine Academy in 1979. Bradway earned his Master's degree in Health and Physical Education from Glassboro State (now Rowan University) in 1982. He was a former collegiate DB at Trenton (NJ) State (now the College of New Jersey), and he earned three letters before graduating from Rowan University with a Bachelor's degree in Health/Physical Education in 1978. HERMAN EDWARDS

Head Coach

Fourth Season with Jets

26th Season in NFL

Fourth Season as Head Coach in NFL

New York Jets Head Coach Herman Edwards' endless passion for the game of football combined with a relentless work ethic has quickly earned him the distinction of being one of the NFL's bright, young innovative head coaches. Edwards, who guided the Jets to back-to-back AFC playoff berths (2001 and 2002), led the Green and White to the 2002 AFC East title in what is widely considered to be the most competitive division in all of professional football.

In 2003, Edwards and the Jets were forced to deal with a major setback when star quarterback, and unquestioned team leader, Chad Pennington suffered a broken wrist that sidelined him for the first half of the season. The Jets struggled to find their rhythm in the early portion of the season and fell behind the pack in the AFC East. However, under Edwards' guidance, the Jets rallied in the second half of the season and climbed into contention. In December, the Jets shifted gears and convincingly defeated one of the NFL's hottest teams, the Tennessee Titans, in an emotionally charged Monday Night game at The Meadowlands, 24-17.

Edwards' leadership style is a unique combination of honesty, innovation, motivation and trust. He applies a wealth of knowledge gleaned from years of playing the game at the highest level, combined with having learned the intricacies of the game from some of the most astute people in the National Football League, such as Kansas City's Dick Vermeil and Indianapolis' Tony Dungy. In just three seasons as a head coach, Edwards has guided the Jets to the third best winning percentage in Club history (.521) and the sixth most regular season wins (25).

His now famous mantra, "You Play to Win The Game," was one of the most lasting memories of the 2002 NFL season and became the Jets' rallying cry for their remarkable second half of the season comeback, turning a tumultuous 2-5 start into a stretch where the Jets captured seven of their last nine games and earned the division title.

As the head coach of the Jets, Edwards has piloted the Green and White to a 25-23 regular season record (.521 winning percentage) and an overall mark of 26-25. In 2002, Edwards' Jets conquered the AFC East after a hard-fought battle all season long against division foes such as the defending Super Bowl champion New England Patriots, the Miami Dolphins and the upstart Buffalo Bills.

Edwards, a model of consistency and class, became the first coach in Club history to lead the Jets to the postseason in his first year with the Club. He followed up the accomplishment by once again guiding the Jets to the postseason in 2002 and capped the season with a convincing 41-0 victory over the Indianapolis Colts at the Meadowlands, before falling to the AFC Champion Oakland Raiders in an AFC Divisional playoff game. The AFC East title marked the Club's second division title since the AFL-NFL merger in 1970 and the Jets' back-to-back playoff appearances were the first for the organization since the 1985-86 seasons.

The Jets' 2002 AFC East title was a product of the team winning seven of the last nine regular season games; three of the last four; eight of the last 10 and four in a row at home. In addition, the Jets' 41-0 playoff win over the Indianapolis Colts in the postseason was the first playoff shutout in Club history and marked the second most points scored in a shutout win in NFL annals, while the 41 points scored were the second most in team history in a playoff game.

Edwards was one of just two AFC coaches to take his Club to back-to-back playoff appearances (2001-2002), joining Pittsburgh's Bill Cowher (the Oakland Raiders also accomplished the feat, in 2001 under Jon Gruden and in 2002 under Bill Callahan).

As the head coach of the Jets, Edwards guided the Jets to the best regular season road record in his first two seasons (11-5). In addition, Edwards' teams have been penalized the fewest times for the fewest amount of negative yardage in the past three seasons, a direct testament to the discipline he has instilled in the team.

Edwards was the only coach out of six newcomers in their first year with their respective teams in 2001 to earn a playoff spot.

In Edwards' first season with the Jets in 2001, he oversaw the implementation of new offensive, defensive and special teams philosophies. Edwards kept a forceful hand on the controls and guided the Jets to their first playoff appearance since 1998. Besides his 10-win season, perhaps the most indicative statistic supporting the effectiveness and diligence of Edwards' coaching style was the discipline the team displayed, garnering an NFL-low 63 penalties for a league low 507 yards.

Relying on a respect-based managing style, keen preparation and a belief in his players and coaching staff, Edwards pushed a diverse roster featuring solid experienced athletes and youthful players into believing in a common goal of reaching the postseason.

The Jets set a franchise mark for most road wins in a season going 7-1, which topped their 5-2 record in 1968. Additionally, the Green and White's 7-1 road record tied them with Philadelphia for the second most wins in 2001 (STL, 8-0).

Besides the Jets' hustle and grit, Edwards' squad also showed a penchant for fourth quarter comebacks in 2001, with five come-from-behind victories in the fourth quarter, highlighted by the team's thrilling 24-22 season finale win at Oakland on place kicker John Hall's 53-yard field goal with just 59 seconds left in the game.

Edwards' 2001 Jets led the NFL in turnover differential with a +18, a margin of one over their closest rival, Edwards' former club, Tampa Bay, who finished with a +17 ratio. The Jets produced the second most take-aways (39) in the AFC and tied with the Bucs for second most in the NFL behind Cleveland's 42. The Jets also proved to be frugal in turning the ball over, relinquishing it just 21 times all season, tied for the fewest in the AFC with Seattle and Pittsburgh and trailing only San Francisco's 19 in the NFL.

Edwards received numerous accolades throughout his rookie coaching campaign for his willingness and cooperation with the media. He also was awarded the Staples "NFL Coach of the Week Award" following the Jets' 21-17 comeback win over the Miami Dolphins on October 14, 2001.

Following his rookie season as head coach, Edwards was rewarded by Jets' owner Woody Johnson, President Jay Cross and General Manager Terry Bradway with a one-year contract extension, thus extending his contract through the 2005 NFL season. Edwards signed a four-year contract extension this past February, thus extending his contract through the 2007 season.

Edwards was named the Jets' 13th full-time head coach on January 18, 2001. The former NFL standout defensive back earned the reputation as an excellent communicator and one of the best teachers during his time spent as assistant head coach/defensive backfield coach of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (1996-2000). At Tampa, he worked closely with current Indianapolis Colts and former Bucs' head coach Tony Dungy with the day-to-day administrative dealings associated with the head coach's role.

While with the Bucs, Edwards helped the secondary become one of the NFL's consistently top-ranked units. In 2000, CB Donnie Abraham (team-high 7 INT) and FS John Lynch (3 INT) each earned Pro Bowl recognition and, collectively, the group recorded 25 interceptions, which tied for first in the NFC and third in the NFL and the Bucs' 41 take-aways tied for second in the NFC and fourth in the NFL. The Bucs' defense also finished +17 in the plus/minus category, tops in the NFC and tied for third best in the NFL. The Bucs defense finished fourth in the NFC in total defense, allowing 300.0 yards per game (9th in NFL) and under his tutelage, the Bucs finished in the top 10 in pass defense in four of the five seasons. Edwards had a major hand in overseeing the NFL's second ranked pass defenses in both 1998 and 1999.

Under Edwards' mentoring Lynch earned three Pro Bowl berths (2000, 1999 and 1998) and Abraham earned one (2000), thus marking the first Pro Bowl appearances by a member of the Tampa Bay defensive backfield since Wayne Haddix in 1990. In 1999, Edwards' troops turned in a stellar effort in the playoffs, holding the second ranked Washington Redskins' passing attack to a mere 121 passing yards and the top-ranked St. Louis offense to just 258 yards through the air. His 1998 group, despite battling through a rash of injuries and the integration of young players, managed to surrender an average of just 172.6 yards per game, the club's best single-season showing since 1982.

In 1997, the Bucs' secondary completed its second consecutive stellar performance under Edwards, finishing in the top 10 in pass defense. While in his first season with Tampa Bay (1996), Edwards led the group to a fourth place ranking in pass defense by limiting opponents to just 182.8 passing yards per game.

Edwards joined the Buccaneers after having worked the previous six years (1990-95) in several different capacities with the Kansas City Chiefs. In 1995, he worked as a scout in the pro personnel department and from 1992-94, he served as the Chiefs' defensive backs coach and was credited with the development of CB Dale Carter, the AFC's Defensive Rookie of the Year in 1992 and S Charles Mincy, while also coaching Pro Bowlers S Kevin Ross and CB Albert Lewis. In each of his three seasons as the Chiefs' defensive backfield coach, KC ranked in the NFL's top three in take-aways and in the top 10 in pass defense. The 1992 season saw the Chiefs lead the AFC, and finish second in the NFL, in pass defense, surrendering a mere 158.6 yards per game.

In 1990-91, Edwards was a talent scout for the Chiefs while also serving as an assistant to Tony Dungy, then the Chiefs' defensive backs coach. It was also at that time Edwards had the opportunity to closely work with Jets' General Manager Terry Bradway, who was also working in the personnel department of the Chiefs. Edwards initially worked for the Chiefs in the summer of 1989 as the recipient of the team's Minority Coaching Fellowship.

Edwards began his coaching career at San Jose State as the defensive back coach from 1987-89 and during each of his three seasons at SJSU, the Spartans' opponents completed less than 50% of their passes.

As a player, Edwards played 10 seasons in the NFL, including nine with the Philadelphia Eagles (1977-85), after signing as a rookie free agent following his collegiate career. He was signed as a rookie by current Chiefs' President and General Manager Carl Peterson, who at the time, was the Eagles' director of player personnel and went on to earn a starting cornerback position in his first preseason game as a rookie at cornerback and proceeded to start the next 135 regular season games during his stellar Eagle career. His career was highlighted by second team All-NFC honors in 1980 and 1982 and an appearance in Super Bowl XV, a 27-10 Raiders win over the Eagles. He departed Philadelphia with 33 career interceptions, which currently ranks third in the Eagles' record books. In addition, he recorded five postseason interceptions, and combined with his regular season interception total, his 38 interceptions stand as a team record.

Edwards gained fame for one of the most memorable plays in Meadowlands history when he recovered a fumble by NY Giants' QB Joe Pisarcik and returned it 26 yards for a touchdown with :31 remaining in Philadelphia's 19-17 "Miracle in the Meadowlands" win on November 19, 1978.

In his final NFL season as a player, Edwards' played in four games for the Los Angeles Rams and three for the Atlanta Falcons, before announcing his retirement during the season on November 11, 1986.

COLLEGE: Edwards began his college career at the University of California-Berkeley and played there in 1972 and 1974. He earned Pac-8 (now Pac-10) honors and set a Golden Bears' record with four interceptions in one game. He played the 1973 season at Monterey Peninsula Junior College and his senior season at San Diego State.

PERSONAL: Edwards earned his Bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice from San Diego State.

He was recently named as a charter member of the Fritz Pollard Alliance, which serves as a conduit between NFL minority coaches and executives in an effort to ensure minorities receive equal consideration for all league job openings.

Herman Edwards is a strong proponent of being a positive role model and is one of the organization's most active participants in off-the-field outreach programs. In 2002, he was served as a national spokesperson for the National Sportsmanship Day, an event promoted through the Institute for International Sport, which serves as a forum for students, teachers, coaches, parents and fans to discuss pertinent issues of ethics, fair play and sportsmanship. He also was recognized by the One Hundred Black Men, Inc. and The Association For A Better New York in 2003 for his outstanding contributions to society.

Edwards and his wife, Lia, work closely with the American Diabetes Association chapter in New York City. In 2004, Edwards launched the inaugural Herm Edwards Golf Classic at the prestigious Piping Rock Country Club on the north shore of Long Island, which raised more than $200,000 for Generation Jets Academy.

He and his wife were guests of President George W. Bush at the White House celebrating Martin Luther King's birthday and were part of a national campaign that encouraged all United States citizens to work on improving the country through volunteerism on the national holiday in 2002.

Edwards hosted a youth football clinic for 250 children in New York City's Central Park in June of 2002 and 2003 and also conducted a Coaches Clinic for 300 area football coaches at Fordham University. In addition, Edwards has been named the recipient of the Staples "NFL Coach of the Week" honor three times (once each in 2001, 2002 and 2003), every year he has been an NFL head coach. Additionally, Edwards was named the recipient of the New York Sports Award as the area's Coach of the Year in 2002.

A frequent motivational speaker at area schools, Edwards eschews the power of positive thinking, teamwork, family values and religion in his speeches. Edwards has also served as a featured speaker at his alma mater, San Diego State, at their annual Coach's Clinic for high school and college coaches.

He is also a proponent of the New York Jets Women's Organization, founded by his wife, Lia, which supports the INN (Interfaith Nutrition Network), the Nassau County Coalition Against Domestic Violence, Mercy First, Breast Cancer Research Foundation, Diabetes Research Institute and The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society.

Edwards was named to the Positive Coaching Alliance's National Advisory Committee in the spring of 2003. Edwards will help spread the organization's message to preserve the "purity of the game of football" and to coach in a positive manner. Edwards is joined on the advisory committee with former NBA head coach Phil Jackson and Detroit Pistons head coach Larry Brown.

With Tampa Bay, Edwards and the Buccaneers' secondary implemented a youth enrichment program called "Focus and Finish," in which they encouraged high school athletes to excel in academics, athletics and as citizens in their communities through volunteering, tutoring and mentoring. Students were rewarded for their work with tickets to a game.

Head Coach Herman Edwards received the Big Brother of the Year award by the Catholic Big Brothers for Boys and Girls in June 2002 at its annual awards dinner at the Marriott Marquis in New York City.

Edwards has hosted the Herman Edwards Football Camp for underprivileged children in the Monterey Peninsula for the past nine years and has also hosted the Annual Herman Edwards Charity Golf Classic, which benefits the Boys and Girls Club in Seaside, CA. He graduated from Monterey HS.

- His 13 sacks tied for the ninth most in Jets' history and were tied for the second most sacks in the AFC in 2001 (P. Boulware-BAL 15, J. Miller-CLE 13, M. Wiley-SD 13) and tied for the sixth most in the NFL.

Incredibly enough, Abraham's feat was garnered in just three games (compared to the majority of his competition's four games), as the Jets had their bye weekend on November 25.

He also added three QB pressures.

- In game four at BUF he had four tackles and scored his first career TD in the first quarter after picking up a fumble that was caused when LB Mo Lewis sacked and stripped QB Rob Johnson of the ball and Abraham scooped up the ball and scampered seven yards for the score, putting the Jets ahead 21-6. The score was his first ever defensive TD on any level of play. Also caused a fumble on the Bills' first possession when he tackled RB Sammy Morris after a three-yard gain at the BUF 49 and CB Marcus Coleman recovered the loose ball, setting up a Jets' TD.
- In game two at NE, he was a force throughout the day, registering nine tackles, sacking QB Drew Bledsoe once and stripping FB Marc Edwards of the ball and recovering it late in the fourth quarter at the Jets' 36-yard line.
- Started at LDE against IND in the season opener in the Jets' 4-3 defense and had five tackles and the team's only sack on the day, a nine-yard tackle of QB Peyton Manning in the fourth quarter. He also had two tackles for losses. The start marked his first start on the NFL level.

GAME ONE: JETS 13 AT WASHINGTON REDSKINS 16

SEPT. 4, 2003. FedEx Field, Landover, MD - Former Jets' kicker John Hall converted a 33-yard field goal with five seconds left to give the Washington Redskins a 16-13 victory over the New York Jets. Redskins' quarterback Patrick Ramsey set up the winning score with a 24-yard scramble to New York's 31-yard line. Ladell Betts carried three times for 17 yards to wind down the clock for Hall's attempt. "It's tough because when it's tied up, you'd like to win it," New York Head Coach Herman Edwards said. "For the most part we stayed in the game. We weathered the storm early, got some turnovers but had to kick field goals." Ramsey completed 17-of-23 passes for 185 yards, but only 29 yards came in the second half. Ramsey also turned over the ball twice in the second half, setting up two Jets field goals that tied the game. Jets' quarterback Vinny Testaverde, returning to the starting job after a preseason wrist injury to Chad Pennington, completed 15-of-24 passes for 105 yards. Redskins' linebacker LaVar Arrington was a force throughout the game, chasing down players in the flat to turn potential long gains into short ones. His stats - six tackles and one batted pass - didn't begin to show the difference he made as the Jets were held to 158 total yards in the NFL's second annual Thursday night opener. The Redskins opened the scoring with a 50-yard Hall field goal after a 12 play, 39 yards drive but the Jets snapped right back and took the lead late in the first quarter on a LaMont Jordan one-yard dive on a fourth-and-goal. Spurrier did his own fourth-and-one trick on the next drive, with Betts converting a short run at the Jets' 27. Wide receiver Darnerien McCants finished the drive with a four-yard TD catch to put Washington ahead 10-7. On the next drive, Ramsey somehow ducked under blitzing linebacker Mo Lewis and found wide receiver Laveranues Coles for a 48-yard gain. The Redskins converted a Hall 22-yard field goal and took a 13-7 lead at the half. Ramsey was nearly perfect in the first half - 12 for 13 for 156 yards - but his second pass of the second half was intercepted by cornerback Donnie Abraham and returned to Washington's 26. Kicker Doug Brien hit a 30-yard field goal to close the Redskins' lead to 13-10. Ramsey's second turnover set up another field goal that tied the score in the fourth quarter. John Abraham, who had two sacks, stripped Ramsey of the ball, and Jason Ferguson recovered at Washington's 43. Five plays later, Brien made a 41-yard field goal with 8:13 to play.

GAME TWO: MIAMI DOLPHINS 21 AT JETS 10

SEPT. 14, 2003. The Meadowlands, E. Rutherford, NJ - The Miami Dolphins gave the Jets a heavy dose of Ricky Williams. Williams ran for 125 yards on 34 carries and the Dolphins rebounded from an opening day loss to the Houston Texans with a 21-10 victory over the Jets. Miami won at the Meadowlands for the first time since 1997, and avoided its first 0-2 start in 15 years. In the 21-20 loss to the Texans, Williams had just 17 carries for 69 yards. His effort against the Jets helped the Dolphins gain 187 yards on the ground, to just 21 for New York (0-2). The Dolphins also had the ball for over 11 minutes more than the Jets. Despite the loss, Vinny Testaverde became the ninth quarterback in NFL history to pass for more than 40,000 yards in his career, finishing 29-of-45 for 373 yards after a rough start in the opening loss to Washington. After jumping to a 21-3 halftime lead, the Dolphins stalled in the second half. The Jets had their chances to come back. Shaun Ellis forced Dolphins quarterback Jay Fiedler to fumble and Chester McGlockton recovered the ball at the start of the fourth quarter. The Jets scored when Testaverde threw a 32-yard pass to Santana Moss with 12:42 remaining to make it 21-10. They crossed midfield on their next possession, but the drive ended when Jason Taylor and Jay Williams sacked Testaverde. The Dolphins punted again, and the Jets crossed midfield again. But Patrick Surtain intercepted Testaverde to end the drive. The Jets had another chance to score in the third. On their final possession of the period, the Jets put together a nice drive in which Moss caught a 61-yard pass and broke several tackles for a first-and-goal at the nine. They went for it on fourth-and-goal from the three, but Testaverde threw incomplete to Anthony Becht at the back of the end zone. "We needed something positive to happen," Head Coach Herman Edwards said. "I didn't think kicking a field goal was going to do anything." Curtis Martin had 10 carries for 32 yards, while Williams and Travis Minor hurt the Jets. Even Fiedler got into the action on the ground, gaining 35 yards on five carries. He ran for a nine-yard touchdown in the first quarter and finished 14-of-19 for 190 yards, with one touchdown pass to Randy McMichael. The Jets took a quick 3-0 lead with a 12-play drive, but that was their only sustained effort of the half. Miami then scored 21 unanswered points. Fiedler started the scoring with his TD run just before the end of the first quarter. On the next scoring drive, Williams gained 18 yards on a draw on third-and-16. Fiedler then threw an eight-yard scoring pass to McMichael to make it 14-3. On their next possession, the Dolphins were poised to punt at the Jets' 42. But new special teams acquisition Michael Bates jumped offside, giving the Dolphins new life. They took advantage, and Williams scored on a two-yard run just before halftime.

GAME THREE: JETS 16 AT NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS 23

SEPT. 21, 2003. Gillette Stadium, Foxboro, MA - For the third straight game, the Patriots lost a key defender and the Jets lost a close contest as New England won 23-16. New England lost NT Ted Washington (fractured leg) and WR David Patten (leg) early in the game, and neither player returned. The Patriots (2-1) already were without two starting linebackers - Ted Johnson, who broke his left foot in the first, and Roosevelt Colvin, who broke his left hip in the second and is expected to miss the season. And they released safety Lawyer Milloy before the first game. Cornerback Ty Law rolled his ankle late in the first half but returned. The Jets (0-3) lost to Washington 16-13 on a field goal with five seconds left, then fell to Miami 21-10 before Sunday's seven-point loss. "It's a sickening feeling," quarterback Vinny Testaverde said. "Losing like this is worse because you were in all three games." Down 23-9, the Jets came right back on Testaverde's 29-yard scoring pass to WR Wayne Chrebet less than two minutes later, but came no closer as they converted just one of 13 third-down opportunities. "It was a character drive," Testaverde said. "We felt like we had momentum but then we can't go out and repeat it." The Patriots broke a five-game home losing streak against the Jets. "We can put that little curse behind us," Law said. "I'm sure the Jets will bounce back like they did last year." The Patriots won at the Meadowlands 44-7 in the second game last year, then lost at home 30-17 in the 15th game and missed the playoffs on the final weekend. Adam Vinatieri and Doug Brien kicked three field goals each before Patriots' quarterback Tom Brady scrambled for a one-yard touchdown run late in the third quarter, giving the Patriots a 23-9 lead run. Brady took it in himself when he saw his receivers were covered, he said. Testaverde started his third game for Pennington and moved into eighth place on the NFL career list with 40,300 yards passing. His 264 yards moved him past Johnny Unitas' 40,239. The Jets managed 65 yards on 17 carries. They had 21 yards rushing against Miami. Curtis Martin ran for 53 yards Sunday after entering the game with 80 on the season. "It's almost there but we're still not doing enough to help the team win," Martin said. Trailing 6-3 with the ball at the Patriots' 16-yard line, the Jets set up for a field goal but faked and Kevin Mawae dropped Dan Stryzinski's pass. "I am trying to get something going," Head Coach Herman Edwards said. "I am trying to score touchdowns."

GAME FOUR: DALLAS COWBOYS 17 AT JETS 6

SEPT. 28, 2003. The Meadowlands, E. Rutherford, NJ - Dallas' running back Troy Hambrick ran for 127 yards and a touchdown on 24 carries as the Cowboys racked up 202 yards on the ground and won 17-6, sending the Jets to their first 0-4 start since 1996. Parcells, who coached the Jets from 1997-99, is 2-0 against his former teams this season. The Cowboys (2-1) beat the New York Giants 35-32 in overtime two weeks ago. Hambrick, the starting back now that Emmitt Smith has gone to Arizona, tied his career high for yardage set against Atlanta on 11/11/01. The Jets came into the game ranked 31 of 32 NFL teams in rushing defense, and Hambrick took advantage. In the second quarter, he converted a turnover into a 31-yard touchdown run for a 7-3 lead. Defensive tackle Chester McGlockton took full responsibility for the play because he was out of position. "I made a mistake, and it cost us a touchdown," McGlockton said. "That started them rolling. It falls on my shoulders. It was a bad, bonehead play." Things got worse for the Jets when Dallas converted another turnover into a touchdown just before halftime. The Jets were driving with less than two minutes remaining in the quarter and looked as though they would score. Curtis Martin took the handoff at the Jets 20 and saw daylight to the end zone, but Roy Williams caught him from behind and caused a fumble at the 11. The ball bounced into the end zone, where Darren Woodson recovered, and Dallas used its two-minute offense to perfection. Quincy Carter threw a 13-yard touchdown pass to Antonio Bryant on third-and-three with 11 seconds remaining. Officials initially called the pass incomplete because it appeared Bryant only got one foot in bounds, but the call was changed after video review. "We just have to find a way to manufacture some points and stop the run, or it's going to be tough sledding for the next 12 games," Head Coach Herman Edwards said. The Jets tried to rally but came up short. Following an interception in the end zone by Sam Gaines, the Jets drove down the field and kicker Doug Brien kicked a 38-yard field goal to make it 14-6 late in the third. Trailing 17-6 with less than three minutes to go in the game, the Jets went for it on fourth-and-three from the Dallas 10, but Vinny Testaverde threw a two-yard pass to Wayne Chrebet and came up short. The Jets have scored three touchdowns in four games and they couldn't muster much Sunday even though Testaverde's numbers looked good: 21-of-29 for 219 yards. The Jets made more of an effort to establish their running game but could not do much, as Martin had 21 carries for 64 yards. Meanwhile, Dallas ran all over the Jets and had 119 yards on the ground in the first half alone. Former Jets' fullback Richie Anderson finished with 37 yards on five carries plus four receptions for 46 yards. Parcells believes Edwards can help the Jets turn their season around. "I think Herman has been resilient as a coach with his team, and I think he'll do it again this year," Parcells said. "I'm hoping they can dig their way out."

GAME FIVE: BUFFALO BILLS 3 AT JETS 30

OCT. 12, 2003. The Meadowlands, E. Rutherford, NJ - Jets' quarterback Vinny Testaverde threw three touchdown passes. Curtis Martin gained key yards. The defense had seven sacks, forced four turnovers and stopped Travis Henry. The Jets won after their bye week yet again, this time routing the Buffalo Bills 30-3 for their first victory of the season. Martin came through. The defense came through. And Testaverde came through, helping the Jets break out. Martin ran for a season-high 77 yards on 20 carries as the Jets' running game tallied more than 100 total yards on the ground for the first time this season. The Jets held Henry to 53 yards on 18 carries — though he did catch seven passes for 35 yards as Buffalo (3-3) played without top receiver Eric Moulds, out with a strained groin. Testaverde finished 11-of-17 for 130 yards and threw three touchdown passes in a game for the first time since tossing five in a 40-37 overtime victory over Miami on Oct. 23, 2000. "It's huge," center Kevin Mawae said. "To get this monkey off our back, to get the win and do it the way we did it — we were the team we wanted to be all along." The Jets would not leave Drew Bledsoe alone — even without Pro Bowl end John Abraham, held out of the game by Head Coach Herman Edwards. Shaun Ellis and Jason Ferguson each had two sacks, while first-round draft pick Dewayne Robertson notched his first sack. Sam Cowart, playing against his former team, had a sack and finished with a game-high 15 tackles. The last time the Jets had seven sacks was in a 34-17 win over New England on Oct. 15, 2000. Bledsoe threw an interception and fumbled once, finishing 24-of-40 for 202 yards before being pulled for Alex Van Pelt with three minutes left. Van Pelt threw an interception on his first pass. "We did have our backs against the wall," said Jets' cornerback Ray Mickens, who had an interception. "In the bye week we made some changes, and like we did the last two years, we came out and played well." The Jets improved to 2-1 after a week off under Head Coach Herman Edwards. Last season, they were 1-4 entering the bye but finished the season with the AFC East title and a 9-7 record. "I wish we had a bye week all the time," defensive coordinator Ted Cottrell said. The Bills took a quick 3-0 lead, but their fortunes changed after Henry gained no yards on a fourth-and-one from the Jets' 34 toward the end of the first quarter. The Jets took over and nine plays later, Testaverde threw a 1-yard TD pass to Anthony Becht. On Buffalo's next possession, Bledsoe could not handle a bad snap from center Trey Teague, and the ball went bouncing 21 yards behind him, before Bryan Thomas recovered for the Jets at the Buffalo 17. Despite the good field position, they could only manage a Doug Brien 27-yard field goal to make it 10-3. Santana Moss set up their next TD. After the Bills went three-and-out to start the third quarter, Moss returned a punt 47 yards to the Buffalo 18. One play later, Testaverde threw his second TD pass to Becht, making it 20-3. Moss finished with three punt returns for 102 yards, and also had a four-yard TD reception just before the end of the third quarter. "We didn't play well enough in any area, didn't coach well enough, and they were inspired and outplayed us in every phase," Buffalo coach Gregg Williams said. Next up, the Jets travel to Houston with renewed confidence. "It gives us a little life," Edwards said, "but we still have a long way to go."

GAME SIX: JETS 19 AT HOUSTON TEXANS 14

OCT. 19, 2003. Reliant Stadium, Houston, TX - One look at Vinny Testaverde convinced Santana Moss the Jets would be able to complete their comeback. Testaverde led the Jets on a long drive in the waning minutes to set up an eight-yard touchdown run by LaMont Jordan with 1:21 left in a 19-14 comeback victory Sunday over the Houston Texans. "He didn't say anything," Moss said of Testaverde. "He could just see it in our eyes and we could see it in his eyes. We just had to fight. We knew it would not be easy and we had to fight them." Down by a point at his own 14-yard line with 2:48 remaining, Testaverde and the Jets calmly got the job done. "Our guys are real experienced," Testaverde said. "We've been in this situation before. You don't have to say a lot, you just call the play with confidence and let them see it in your eyes, and the guys came out and made some great plays." Despite the late score - which was followed by an incomplete pass on a two-point try - the Jets held their breaths when J.J. Moses returned the ensuing kickoff 63 yards to the New York 27 and the Texans (2-4) quickly moved to the 9. On fourth-and-4, David Carr's pass over the middle glanced off receiver Andre Johnson's chest and fell to the ground. The Jets were flagged for unsportsmanlike conduct after the play, but possession already had changed and the offense could exhaust the final 21 seconds. "The last pass was intended for Billy Miller. I told Andre after the game, 'Don't worry about it. It wasn't your fault,'" Carr said. "We've tried that play many times in practice and that's never happened." Testaverde was 15-of-29 for 182 yards and also threw his 250th career touchdown pass, while Santana Moss had six receptions for 111 yards. Testaverde got the game-winning drive rolling with a 25-yard pass to Moss. Then he scrambled for 13 yards to near midfield before New York turned to its tailback tandem of Jordan and veteran Curtis Martin, who had a 20-yard run. Jordan finished the drive with runs of six and eight yards. "At the end of the year we'll just look at this game as another win," Edwards said. "Some will say it was ugly, but the guys did a great job of fighting back, and we pulled it out." Domanick Davis, who never could establish himself as the featured back at Louisiana State, set the tempo early. He accounted for 44 yards rushing and receiving on Houston's opening drive but was getting a breather when Mack romped through the Jets' secondary for a 10-yard TD run. Davis got Houston going again after New York's third consecutive three-and-out series to start the game, helping the Texans drive to the Jets' one. Coach Dom Capers went for it on fourth down and Mack flew over the top, breaking the plane of the goal line just before linebacker Sam Cowart knocked the ball loose. The Jets came alive, pinned at their own nine, late in the second. Testaverde capped the drive with his scoring toss to Moss, who split cornerback Kenny Wright and safety Marlon McCree in the end zone. McCree knocked helmets with Wright on the play, sending him to the locker room. He did not return. Doug Brien hit a 39-yard field goal late in the third quarter and a 30-yarder midway into the fourth to narrow Houston's lead to 14-13.

GAME SEVEN: JETS 17 AT PHILADELPHIA EAGLES 24

OCT. 26, 2003. Lincoln Financial Field, Philadelphia, PA - The New York Jets dropped their first game in three weeks to the defending NFC East Champion Philadelphia Eagles, 24-17, at Lincoln Financial Field. Eagles quarterback Donovan McNabb completed 17 of 23 passes for 141 yards and one TD, and RB Correll Buckhalter ran for 100 yards and two touchdowns, in quarterback Chad Pennington's return to the lineup. Pennington, playing for the first time since breaking his left wrist Aug. 23 in a preseason game against the New York Giants, was 14-of-23 for 154 yards and one interception. His desperation pass from Philadelphia's 42 fell incomplete as the Eagles (4-3) won for the fourth time in five games. "For the most part he was a little bit rusty," Head Coach Herman Edwards said. "He did some good things. He moved the team. He didn't hurt us." Vinny Testaverde led the Jets to 10 points in three possessions before giving way to Pennington in the second quarter. Testaverde finished seven-of-11 for 112 yards and one touchdown, a 60-yard toss to Santana Moss on a perfectly executed flea flicker. Curtis Martin had 110 yards rushing for the Jets. "I didn't try to talk him into letting me stay in," Testaverde said. "I knew going in what the plan was. Did I want to stay in? Yes, but it's not my decision." McNabb, heavily criticized for his poor performance this season, threw a 4-yard TD pass to Jon Ritchie, giving the Eagles a 21-17 lead with 6:42 left. McNabb made crisp passes, quick decisions and led the Eagles into the endzone on their first two possessions. Michael Lewis set up the go-ahead touchdown by intercepting Pennington and returning it 23 yards to Philadelphia's 43. Pennington carried out a play-action fake beautifully but underthrew Moss. "The game came down to one play and I didn't make the play," Pennington said. "He made a great play. I made a bad throw." Seven plays later, McNabb connected with Ritchie for his third touchdown pass of the season. Duce Staley set up the score with an 18-yard run to New York's four. David Akers made it 24-17 on a 30-yard field goal with 1:12 left. The Eagles' Darwin Walker stopped LaMont Jordan on a fourth-and-one at the Jets' 46, setting up Akers' field goal. Edwards planned to ease Pennington back into action by letting Testaverde play the first few series. But Pennington entered with the Jets' starting a drive at their own eight, and he led them to Philadelphia's 20 before Moss fumbled after a short pass. Pennington led the NFL with a 104.2 passer rating and 68.9 completion percentage last year, and helped the Jets win the AFC East after replacing Testaverde following a 1-3 start. After Aaron Beasley intercepted McNabb and returned it 25 yards to Philadelphia's 49, the Jets took a 17-14 lead on a four-yard touchdown run by Jordan in the final minute of the third quarter. Akers was short on a 55-yard field goal attempt that would have tied it early in the fourth. Buckhalter ran in from six yards out to give the Eagles a 7-3 lead on their first possession. McNabb completed all three of his passes for 27 yards on the drive and received a mock ovation from fans after his eight-yard pass to Chad Lewis on the first offensive play. Testaverde's touchdown pass to Moss gave the Jets a 10-7 lead. Buckhalter scored on a seven-yard touchdown run to put Philadelphia ahead 14-10. Jets' defensive end John Abraham had 3.5 sacks, all in the first half. He left the game with a right groin strain.

GAME EIGHT: NEW YORK GIANTS 31 AT JETS 28 (OT)

NOV. 2, 2003. The Meadowlands, East Rutherford, NJ • The New York Jets rallied from a 14-point deficit inside of 10 minutes in the fourth quarter and forced overtime against their cross-town rivals, but fell to the Giants on a 29-yard field goal with :04 left in the extra session. Brett Conway atoned for a missed field goal early in overtime by kicking a 29-yarder with four seconds to go, and the Giants overcame a dramatic four-touchdown performance by Chad Pennington with a 31-28 victory Sunday. Both the Jets and the Giants had opportunities to win the game on their first possessions of overtime, but each team missed field goals, a 40-yarder for the Giants and a 51-yarder for the Jets that was blocked. Jets' Head Coach Herman Edwards calculated the long field goal attempt and said, "it is a tough kick, but we are trying to win the game. You can second-guess and say we should have punted, but we are trying to win the game." Brien appeared to still be in his pre-kick routine when long snapper James Dearth snapped the ball because the play clock was down to one second. The Jets had no timeouts remaining. Brien got the kick off, but Will Allen came off the right wing and blocked it. The block gave the Giants the ball at their 36. Kerry Collins, who threw for two touchdowns and 303 yards, put his team in position to win with passes of 19 yards to Amani Toomer and 12 yards to Tiki Barber. Conway, who said his curling first kick from 39 yards probably would have been good from 35, didn't miss his second chance. The loss left the Jets with the prospect of winning seven of their final eight games to have an outside shot at the playoffs. "It's actually sad in a way to see the looks on their faces after they fought back and played as hard as they did," said Giants defensive end Michael Strahan. Despite three turnovers, Pennington was outstanding in his first start this season. He threw for 281 yards and four scores, the last a nine-yarder to tight end Anthony Becht with 29 seconds left in regulation. The touchdown pass capped a 12-play, 86-yard drive that was ignited by a roughing-the-passer penalty against linebacker Mike Barrow. Pennington kept it alive with a 15-yard pass to Santana Moss on fourth-and-one. Moss earlier caught touchdown passes of 8, 25 and 11 yards, the last getting the Jets within 28-21 with 5:39 to go. "It is devastating, because we were so close," said Moss, who had a career-best 10 catches for 121 yards. "We had a chance. That's the worst part about it." The Giants appeared in control after Dorsey Levens scored on a three-yard run and Collins added a two-point conversion on a quarterback draw for a 28-14 lead with 9:58 to play in regulation. Collins had given the Giants a 20-14 lead late in the third quarter with a 6-yard pass to Ike Hilliard. Collins also threw a 39-yard TD pass to Toomer. Pennington, who was intercepted twice and lost a fumble, made up for his mistakes in his first start since breaking his left wrist in the preseason after being tackled by Giants' linebacker Brandon Short.

GAME NINE: JETS 27 AT OAKLAND RAIDERS 24 (OT)

NOV. 9, 2003. Network Associates Coliseum, Oakland, CA - LaMont Jordan reminded the New York Jets at halftime just how devastating a loss would be. "One team's season is going to end today," Jordan told them, "and it's not going to be ours." Jordan took his own words to heart, igniting a remarkable rally when he ran two yards for a touchdown with 14:20 left. The Jets kept coming, overcame an 11-point deficit and beat the Oakland Raiders 27-24 in overtime Sunday. Chad Pennington threw a three-yard scoring pass to Jerald Sowell with 1:09 left and completed the two-point conversion pass to Anthony Becht to force OT. Then Doug Brien kicked a 38-yard field goal in the extra period. "This is special," Pennington said. "The Raiders had a blueprint to beat us, and everyone counted us out. But we won!" The Jets were ecstatic, dancing on the field after Brien's kick cleared the uprights. New York is all too familiar with frustrating finishes in Oakland. The Jets have come west to play the Raiders six times in five years and had lost four of the last five. But under Head Coach Herman Edwards, the Jets have carved out a 2-1 record in the regular season. Brien made up for his botched field goal in a 31-28 overtime loss to the Giants last Sunday. He wasn't ready for the snap and had a 51-yard field goal blocked. Brien woke up at 5 a.m. every day this week, agonizing over his mistake, so he was thrilled to get another chance. Especially because the former Cal kicker had 30 friends in the stands. "It was one of the longest weeks in my life," he said. "I've been kicking really well, but it was tormenting me all week. But it feels great to do it here. It goes through your head, bits and pieces run through your mind." For Pennington, back as the starter for his second game after breaking his wrist in the preseason, this win was especially gratifying. He had one of his worst outings in New York's 30-10 playoff loss to the Raiders 10 months ago that propelled Oakland into the AFC championship game. Pennington went 18-of-27 for 269 yards and two touchdowns this time around. He fumbled three times, but the Jets (3-6) recovered each one. They recovered some confidence, too, after the worst start in coach Herman Edwards' tenure. The Jets sent the Raiders to their fifth straight loss despite an admirable job by quarterback Rick Mirer and an overpowering running attack that staked the Raiders to a 21-10 first-half lead. After allowing only 12 yards to the Jets on the ground in the first half, New York ran for 143 after halftime. Curtis Martin was limited to 61 yards on 19 carries and ran for minus-4 yards on his first three attempts and the Jets had to punt. Phillip Buchanon took the punt off a bounce and broke three tackles for a 78-yard touchdown. The Raiders' first score off a kickoff or punt return this season. The Jets came back with a big play 58 seconds later. Pennington hit Santana Moss, who seemed in trouble when defensive end DeLawrence Grant spun him 360 degrees - and propelled him straight for the end zone. Moss broke free for a 65-yard TD. Moss caught six passes for 146 yards. Raiders running back Charlie Garner left on Oakland's first series with a strained lower back. Zack Crockett, Wheatley and Justin Fargas and ran 19 straight rushing plays to take a 14-7 lead on Crockett's 1-yard TD on fourth down. Mirer threw a two-yard touchdown pass to Jerry Porter 34 seconds before halftime. Porter's first TD of the season and the first red-zone score by an Oakland receiver.

GAME TEN: JETS 31 AT INDIANAPOLIS COLTS 38

NOV. 16, 2003. RCA Dome, Indianapolis, IN - Edgerrin James became the Colts' all-time leading rusher but it was punter Hunter Smith who had the key run of the game, as the Colts clipped the Jets, 38-31. While James carried for a season-high 127 yards and three touchdowns Sunday, it was Smith's 21-yard run on a fake field goal that gave the Colts the deciding points in the shoot-out. Peyton Manning threw for a season-high 401 yards on a wacky day for two teams that last met in a lopsided Jets' playoff win and are led by former defensive coaches in Tony Dungy and Herman Edwards. The game had a little bit of everything. The Jets (3-7) and Colts combined for 862 total yards, 69 points and scored on a myriad of big and strange plays - none more critical than Smith's. James had 36 carries, second most of his career. Manning completed 27 of 36 with one touchdown - a 46-yarder to Walters. Reggie Wayne caught nine passes for 141 yards, and Dallas Clark had five receptions for 100 yards. "We said if they could run it and pass it, it was going to be hard to defend them," Edwards said. New York got two touchdowns from Jonathan Carter, on a 62-yard touchdown pass and a 90-yard kickoff return. Santana Moss caught a 48-yard TD pass from Chad Pennington and Curtis Conway caught a 28-yarder. Moss broke Don Maynard's franchise record with a touchdown reception in his sixth straight game. Pennington completed 11 of 14 passes for 219 yards and three touchdowns, finishing with a perfect passer rating of 158.3. Curtis Martin carried 13 times for 105 yards. The Jets changed the tone of the game quickly in the second half. Trailing 24-10 at halftime, they scored twice on their first five plays of the second half and sandwiched Carter's kickoff return in between to tie the score at 31. But they were worn down. "Defensively, we couldn't get off the field enough times," said Edwards, who was a defensive assistant on Dungy's staff in Tampa Bay. James was the biggest reason. He rushed for three touchdowns for the first time since Dec. 9, 2000. He also broke Lydell Mitchell's franchise rushing record (5,487). "At one point we thought we were going to put them away. We put them behind by two scores," James said. "But they came back." Late in the third quarter, Manning and James led Indianapolis on a 57-yard drive. That's when Dungy emptied the playbook. Mike Vanderjagt, who had made 29 straight field goals, lined up for a 38-yarder. Smith took the snap, saw an opening and darted 21 yards virtually untouched to the end zone. The Indianapolis defense held from there and Manning hit another big play, a 35-yard pass to Wayne, that fittingly sealed the outcome. "Championship teams find ways to win games differently," Dungy said. "We've won 9-6 games, we've won games where we shut people down, we won today because we outscored them."

GAME ELEVEN: JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS 10 AT JETS 13

NOV. 23, 2003. The Meadowlands, East Rutherford, NJ - Chad Pennington went through his usual fourth-quarter routine Sunday: rallying the New York Jets. Pennington guided another late comeback with calm, confidence and a bit of deception, throwing a three-yard touchdown pass to Santana Moss with 26 seconds left to give the Jets a 13-10 win over the Jacksonville Jaguars. With three minutes to go and no timeouts, Pennington efficiently marched the Jets 94 yards. In every start he has made this season, since coming back from a broken left wrist, he has guided a fourth-quarter rally. They are 2-2 in those games, beating the Jaguars and Raiders, losing to the Colts and Giants. "It's fun, but you don't want to make a living doing that," Pennington said. He almost never had a chance to win the game. After Chris Fuamatu-Ma'afala scored on fourth-and-goal from inside the one-yard line to give Jacksonville (2-9) the lead with 4:24 remaining, the Jets (4-7) went four-and-out. Jacksonville got the ball at the Jets 40. Head Coach Herman Edwards turned to Pennington and said, "You'll get the ball back, but you're not going to have any timeouts." And sure enough, the Jets used all their timeouts and the much-maligned defense forced a punt with three minutes remaining. Pennington threw consecutive completions to Curtis Martin to the Jaguars 22. Then on third-and-three, he threw a 14-yard pass to Jerald Sowell. After a four-yard completion to Martin, Pennington looked at Moss, signaling he would go to the speedy receiver. He then faked a spike and hiked the ball. Moss caught the ball in the corner of the end zone for the winning score. Until that point, he had one catch for 10 yards. "Chad gave me the eye and he threw it up for me to make a play," Moss said. Pennington finished 25 of 39 for 236 yards with one touchdown and one interception. Fellow Marshall quarterback Byron Leftwich was 17 of 33 for 172 yards with an interception. They embraced at midfield after the game. But the Jets' rally made up for an otherwise good performance by the Jaguars' defense. Jacksonville outgained the Jets 330-282, had nine more plays and outrushed them 158-61, but Pennington made all the difference. Offensively, the Jets could not gain any momentum until the final drive. After scoring 86 total points in the last three games, Pennington led an inconsistent effort. Tight end Anthony Becht had a career-high 63 yards on five catches. The Jaguars had plenty of opportunities in the first half, but turnovers thwarted them. On their first drive, Taylor fumbled after an 11-yard gain to the Jets 36 and Aaron Beasley recovered. Beasley made another big play to save the Jets. After David Allen returned a punt 52 yards to the Jets 22, the Jaguars seemed poised to score. But on third-and-two from the three-yard line, Beasley intercepted a pass by Leftwich in the end zone. Early in the second quarter, Seth Marler missed a 36-yard field goal wide right. On their next possession, the Jaguars had the ball inside the Jets 10 again, but could not score a touchdown. Marler made a 23-yard field goal to tie it. In the end, Pennington finally won it for the Jets. "You have to win games any way you can," Edwards said. "For our guys to keep their composure, I thought they did a great job."

GAME TWELVE: TENNESSEE TITANS 17 AT JETS 24

DEC. 1, 2003. The Meadowlands, East Rutherford, NJ - Chad Pennington threw two second-half touchdown passes as the New York Jets defeated the Tennessee Titans 24-17. The Jets (5-7) kept their playoff hopes alive and handed the Titans (9-3) their first loss in seven games. Steve McNair started the game for the Titans despite a strained right calf, hoping to give the Titans sole possession of the AFC South after Indianapolis lost Sunday to the New England Patriots. The NFL's top-rated passer heading into the game was mostly ineffective. McNair finished 21-of-35 for 272 yards with two touchdown passes and two interceptions. He threw an eight-yard scoring pass to Derrick Mason with 1:52 remaining to get the Titans within a touchdown, but Chris Baker recovered the onside kick for the Jets to close out the win. Mason finished with 11 receptions for 133 yards and one touchdown. Pennington, meanwhile, finished 18-of-23 for 231 yards and also had two interceptions for his third win in five starts since returning from a broken left wrist. We're going to win games this year." Pennington was perfect in the second half, going 8-for-8 for 134 yards with the two scores. After the Titans tied the game at 10 on a 35-yard field goal by Gary Anderson in the third quarter, Pennington engineered two straight scoring drives to take control of the game. The first featured a little trickery. A reverse to Santana Moss gained six yards and a flea flicker that Pennington threw to Curtis Conway got them 27 yards to the Titans 27. On the next play, Pennington threw a beautiful 27-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Swayne for a 17-10 lead. It was Swayne's first reception of the year and his first career touchdown catch. After forcing the Titans to punt, Pennington put the Jets up by two touchdowns - thanks to Moss. On second-and-five from the 42, Pennington threw a pass to tight end Baker. But the ball deflected off his hands and up and Moss was there to catch the ball and make a 32-yard completion. Conway then caught an 8-yard touchdown pass, keeping his toes inbounds, to cap the drive. McNair tried to rally the Titans, but Sam Garnes broke up a pass in the end zone intended for Erron Kinney on fourth-and-goal with 5:21 remaining. McNair started off well, throwing a 59-yard touchdown pass to Justin McCarreins on the opening drive for a quick 7-0 lead. It was the longest completion for the Titans this season. The Jets tied it up on the following possession. After converting a fourth-and-one from the Titans' 14 when Pennington completed a 4-yard pass to Jerald Sowell, the Jets faced second-and-goal from the 12. Pennington threw a fade to Moss in the right corner of the endzone, but Samari Rolle got his hands on the ball. Officials initially ruled it an interception, and Rolle did a throat slash gesture that earned him an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty. But the Jets challenged the call, and the official ruled that Rolle did not have possession. The Jets got an automatic first down at the six and Curtis Martin ran in for the score on the following play. Doug Brien kicked a 27-yard field goal just before the break to give the Jets a 10-7 lead. The Titans played without defensive end Jevon Kearse, who missed his second straight game with a sprained left ankle.

GAME THIRTEEN: JETS 6 AT BUFFALO BILLS 17

DEC. 7, 2003. Ralph Wilson Stadium, Orchard Park, NY • Showing no affects from a broken bone in his right leg and torn rib cartilage, RB Travis Henry ran for a career-high 169 yards and a touchdown, lifting the Bills to a 17-6 victory over the New York Jets on Sunday. By winning their second straight, the Bills (6-7) remain on the fringes of the playoff hunt. The Jets (5-8) had their chances all but dimmed. That's somewhat of a surprise for a team that had won three of its last four, including last Monday's heady 24-17 upset victory against Tennessee. "Every area they outplayed us," Jets' running back Curtis Martin said. "There's no excuse. We got our butts kicked. It doesn't get worse than this." Besides Henry, the Bills' defense played a big hand in containing the Chad Pennington-led offense. Tackle Sam Adams recorded two sacks and made seven tackles. Buffalo limited the Jets to two field goals - the first time in Pennington's 18 career starts that New York has failed to score a touchdown. Pennington finished 15-of-29 for 155 yards and an interception. Doug Brien accounted for the Jets' scoring with field goals of 17 and 40 yards. Brien also was short from 50 yards. The game was determined at the start of the second half with Bills up 7-3 and Henry leading the way. Starting on their own 15, Henry carried the ball eight times for 52 yards to cap an 11-play drive with a four-yard touchdown scamper. With 4:10 remaining, Pennington threw an incomplete pass intended for Anthony Becht on fourth-and-one at the New York 33. Then, following a fumble by Henry (his only miscue), Bills rookie cornerback Terrence McGee intercepted a pass from Pennington with 2:20 remaining. Bills QB Drew Bledsoe had dizzy spells the previous two weeks. The dizziness, which subsided Wednesday, was the result of a severe blow to the head - the second in consecutive weeks - forcing him out of last week's 24-7 win over the New York Giants. Bledsoe finished 9-of-15 for 72 yards, the fewest in a complete game during his 11-year career. It didn't matter to Bledsoe, who gladly gave way to Henry. "Today was one of those games where I really felt like I was fortunate just to have a great seat just to watch him work," Bledsoe said. Henry also achieved several personal accomplishments. With 1,159 yards rushing on the season, Henry became the fourth Bills player to record at least two 1,000-yard seasons. And his rushing touchdown was the 10th of the season, joining Cookie Gilchrist as the only Buffalo player rush for 10 or more in back-to-back years. Henry also enjoyed the 13th 100-yard rushing game of his career, and fifth this season. Not bad for someone who played his ninth game since tearing rib cartilage in a game against Miami, and third game since sustaining a hairline fracture above his right ankle against Houston.

GAME FOURTEEN: PITTSBURGH STEELERS 0 AT JETS 6

DEC. 14, 2003. The Meadowlands, East Rutherford, NJ - A few hours before kickoff, Jets' running back Curtis Martin went onto the field at the Meadowlands to practice running on the snow. Whatever he did worked. Martin had 30 carries for 174 yards, finished with 228 all-purpose yards and etched his name in the NFL record books Sunday, helping the New York Jets beat the Pittsburgh Steelers 6-0. It was the first time in over three years the Steelers (5-9) were shut out, dating to a 16-0 loss to Baltimore on Sept. 3, 2000. Doug Brien kicked two field goals to provide all the scoring, and the defense made three defensive stands in the fourth quarter to seal the win. Pittsburgh had its chances, but Jeff Reed missed his field goal attempts of 42 and 20 yards, both wide left. With the loss, the Steelers were officially eliminated from playoff contention. Martin stole the game after a winter storm dumped several inches of snow on the Northeast. He became just the second player in NFL history to top 1,000 yards in nine straight seasons to start a career, joining Barry Sanders as the only players in NFL history to accomplish the feat. Sanders had 1,000 yards in each of his first 10 seasons. Martin also passed John Riggins for 11th place on the all-time rushing list. Martin has 11,488 career yards. His rushing counterpart, Jerome Bettis, also passed Franco Harris for eighth place on the career rushing list, though Bettis was limited in the fourth quarter with a right knee injury and finished with 16 carries for 68 yards. Bettis has 12,184 career yards. Martin had his most productive game on the ground since rushing for 203 yards against Indianapolis on Dec. 3, 2000. The last time the Jets (6-8) hosted a football game played in a snowstorm was Dec. 12, 1982, at Shea Stadium against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. The Jets beat the Bucs 32-17 in front of an announced crowd of 28,147. The snow changed to rain in the second half, but by that time it was too late for the Steelers to mount a comeback. It was the lowest scoring game in the NFL this year. Brien kicked field goals of 28 and 41 yards in the first half, and the Jets held on after the break thanks to three defensive stands. Midway through the fourth quarter, Tommy Maddox tried to engineer a rally. On third-and-goal from the Jets' six, Maddox threw an interception to Ray Mickens in the end zone. But officials made a questionable call on Aaron Beasley, whistling him for roughing the passer after making helmet-to-helmet contact. The Steelers had a new set of downs, but failed to score a touchdown. Reed then missed the 20-yard field goal. Martin then marched the Jets down the field, and his 56-yard run to the Steelers 10 looked as though it would ice the game. But on the next play, LaMont Jordan mishandled the handoff from Chad Pennington and fumbled. Mike Logan recovered for the Steelers. After driving to the Jets 16, they faced fourth-and-10 but Maddox threw incomplete. The Steelers had one final drive, but Maddox threw incomplete on fourth-and-10 from the 45. Maddox finished the game with eight straight incompletions and was 16-of-38 for 137 yards.

GAME FIFTEEN: NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS 21 AT JETS 16

DEC. 20, 2003. The Meadowlands, East Rutherford, NJ - The New England Patriots won their 11th straight game in typical fashion Saturday night: They pulled out yet another close game thanks to their defense. Willie McGinest returned an interception for a score and the Patriots picked off Chad Pennington four other times, keying a 21-16 victory over the New York Jets. Tom Brady also threw two touchdown passes to David Givens, but the offense struggled most of the game, keeping the Jets in it until the end. The Pats won their seventh game by seven points or less. The Jets (6-9) have not shared the same fortune. They will finish the season with a losing record for the first time since 1996, when they went 1-15 and have dropped six games by seven points or less. Pennington had his worst game as a professional, throwing a career-high five interceptions - including one in the end zone to Ty Law. Pennington had seven interceptions on the season entering into the game. Fittingly, the Patriots ended the Jets' final rally with an interception. Eugene Wilson picked off Pennington to preserve the victory. Pennington finished 24 of 43 for 229 yards and two running scores. Afterward, several teammates gave him words of encouragement. "When you know you lost the game for your team and your teammates pat you on the back and give you words of encouragement, it means a lot," Pennington said. "This was a night where the finger is pointed at me, but they're not pointing fingers." The Patriots needed their defense to play well to even have a chance. New England had 13 first downs to 22 for the Jets, went three of 11 on third down and finished with fewer total yards (321-271). Tedy Bruschi got the first pickoff on the second play of the game. It took eight seconds for the Patriots to convert the turnover into a score, when Brady threw a 35-yard touchdown pass to Givens for a quick 7-0 lead. The Jets answered when Pennington ran for a 1-yard TD to tie it up. With the Patriots struggling offensively, the defense stepped up again. McGinest returned an interception 15 yards for another score, the fifth time this season the Patriots returned a pickoff for a touchdown, tying a team record set in 2001. New England has a total of six defensive touchdowns this season, which leads the NFL. New England was not done making big plays. After Brady threw his second TD pass of the game to Givens to make it 21-10 in the third quarter, the Jets drove down the field. Pennington threw a pass for Santana Moss in the end zone from the Patriots' 21, but Law was there to intercept it. The Jets would not go quietly. Pennington scored on a 10-yard run early in the fourth to make it 21-16. The 2-point conversion try failed when he threw incomplete to Kevin Lockett. The Patriots punted away, and the Jets had the ball with a chance to go ahead. Rodney Harrison made sure that did not happen, intercepting a deep pass intended for Moss. Brady finished 12 of 25 for 138 yards and two scores, while Antowain Smith had 18 carries for 121 yards. New England ends the season at Buffalo, while the Jets travel to Miami.

GAME SIXTEEN: JETS 21 AT MIAMI DOLPHINS 23

DEC. 28, 2003. Pro Player Stadium, Miami, FL • The New York Jets' finale summed up their season: another close game and another loss. New York overcame a 13-point deficit with four consecutive scores, but Olindo Mare's 22-yard field goal with 3 seconds left gave the Miami Dolphins a 23-21 victory Sunday. The Jets finished 6-10, with seven defeats by seven points or less. "We'll all remember this feeling as a team," quarterback Chad Pennington said. "We'll do everything in our power to make sure we don't have this feeling again." The Jets closed out their first losing season since 1996 and their first under Head Coach Herman Edwards. "It starts with the head guy," Edwards said. "I need to improve. I feel I let these guys down this year." Pennington went 22-for-28 for 221 yards and a score, but counterpart Jay Fiedler was even better. Playing perhaps his final game for Miami, Fiedler threw for a career-high 328 yards and completed three passes to drive the Dolphins 45 yards in the final 2:56 for the winning score. "It's almost as if it was always wintertime for the New York Jets," running back Curtis Martin said. "We are always close, but not close enough. We have to figure it out. We are not going to have another season like this." Martin rushed for 92 yards to increase his total to 1,308. New York fell behind 20-7, then rallied with a touchdown, two field goals and a safety to lead 21-20. Pennington's one-yard touchdown pass to Anthony Becht put the Jets ahead. On the conversion attempt, the ball was ruled to have hit the ground before Becht caught it. "When things aren't going your way, you have to play perfect to get things going your way," Pennington said. "We didn't do that."

JETS HIRE BELICHICK/PARCELLS COMBO — The Jets hire longtime Bill Parcells assistant Bill Belichick as head coach, naming Bill Parcells as a consultant, and spurring an official complaint from the New England Patriots, who claimed to still hold Parcells under contract. (Feb. 3).

JETS MEET WITH COMMISSIONER — Leon Hess and Patriots Owner Bob Kraft meet with Commissioner Paul Tagliabue in New York City with regard to the Parcells issue. After hours of negotiations, Tagliabue ruled that Bill Parcells could take over the Jets football operations immediately. In return, the Jets would compensate the Patriots with draft picks over the next three years: the Jets third and fourth round selections in 1997, their second round selection in 1998 and their first round selection in 1999. (Feb. 10).

The Jets found themselves alive in the playoff race up to the last game of the season when they played at Detroit in a "win you're in, lose and you go home," finale. The Jets just fell short and missed the playoffs after a tough 13-10 loss. (Dec. 21).

JETS UNVEIL NEW LOGOS — The Jets look to go back to the future with their "new" logo. In actuality, the Jets returned to their original uniform and logo first worn at the club's inception in 1963 and worn by the team when Joe Namath "guaranteed" their 16-7 victory over the Baltimore Colts in Super Bowl III on January 12, 1969. (Feb. 3).

JETS SIGN CURTIS MARTIN — Curtis Martin officially became a New York Jet as the restricted free agent offer sheet was not matched by the Patriots. The Jets did have to give up first and third round picks, but Bill Parcells stated that Martin was worth it. "It was a long process, but one we think was well thought out. We know the price was high, but we think we got good value in return. When I look at the draft and the 18th spot, I look to see if I can get a better player than Curtis Martin and I don't think I can. I think that this move gives us a stable of very good backs." (March 25).

JETS FINISH THE DRAFT WITH 12 NEW FACES — Bill Parcells, who has never been afraid to trade down for more draft picks, did just that and tried strengthening his team with 12 new rookies. For the second straight year the Jets had a lot of new faces on the team. (Apr. 18-19).

JETS SIGN QB VINNY TESTAVERDE — Vinny Testaverde returned to Long Island where he grew up and fulfilled a lifetime dream of playing for the Jets. He has spent time with Tampa Bay, Cleveland and Baltimore, throughout his career and was named to the Pro Bowl in 1996 while with the Ravens as he threw for a career-high 4,177 yards and 33 TD. With this signing, the Jets also released QB Neil O'Donnell. O'Donnell joined the Jets in 1996 as a UFA, after spending six seasons with Pittsburgh. (June 24).

JETS WIN AFC EAST FOR FIRST TIME — After defeating the Buffalo Bills 17-10 at Ralph Wilson Stadium the Jets clinched their first AFC East title. The tough road victory not only won them the AFC East, it assured the team a very important first round bye in the playoffs. (Dec. 19).

JETS SEND FIVE TO THE PRO BOWL — Aaron Glenn, for the second year in a row, was voted the AFC's starting cornerback. Glenn led the team with six INT and was once again big on kickoff returns. Mo Lewis was named a starter in the Pro Bowl. This was his first selection in his eight-year career. QB Vinny Testaverde made the team as a reserve and made his second appearance in the game. The team MVP set a club record for most TD thrown in a season with 29, and led the Jets to the AFC Championship game. WR Keyshawn Johnson made his first appearance in Hawaii. The third-year wideout led the team in receptions, yards and TD receiving. (Dec. 16) Curtis Martin replaced an injured Terrell Davis to make his third Pro Bowl appearance. (Feb. 5).

JETS WIN PLAYOFF GAME — The Jets won their first playoff game since 1986 when they defeated the Jacksonville Jaguars at the Meadowlands, 34-24. In a wild game, the Jets jumped to a 17-0 second quarter lead only to see the Jaguars get back into it before surging to another 17-point bulge, 31-14. The Jaguars closed to 31-24 before John Hall's 30-yard FG closed the door sending the Jets to their first conference championship game in 16 years. Keyshawn Johnson and Curtis Martin sparked the Jets' offense. Martin was 36-124-2 TD rushing and 6-58 receiving. Johnson finished the day with 9-121 receiving, added a 10-yard end around TD, had a fumble recovery and ended the game with an interception on a last second Hail Mary. (Jan. 10).

JETS FALL SHORT IN AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME — The Jets took a 10-0 third quarter lead, but were unable to play the mistake-free football they had played all season and saw the Denver Broncos come back for a 23-10 victory en route to defending their Super Bowl championship. After taking their 10-0 lead via a FG and a blocked punt resulting in a TD, the Jets were victimized by a couple of big plays by John Elway and the running of Terrell Davis' 32-167-1TD. The Jets lost four fumbles and had two passes deflected into interceptions. (Jan. 17).

JETS SECURE VINNY TESTAVERDE — After a Pro Bowl year, the Jets made sure to lock up their star QB for probably the rest of his career. Testaverde signed a three-year deal, with a four-year option. He led the Jets to AFC Championship game where the team fell just sort of fulfilling their Super Bowl dreams. This 1986 Heisman trophy winner, returns to his hometown area of Elmont, where he was 12-1 in the regular season as a starter. His 29 touchdown passes broke a club record shared by his boyhood idol Joe Namath. (Mar. 1).

JETS HOPE TO IMPROVE THEIR OFFENSIVE LINE — With four of the team's eight picks in the 1999 draft, the Jets selected offensive linemen. The team continues to try to find the right fit at the G position for the 1999 season. The team also selected two LB, one DT and one CB rounding out their eight selections.

OWNER LEON HESS REMEMBERED — Leon Hess, the owner of the New York Jets and the oil legend, died at age 85. The cause of death was attributed to complications from a blood disease. Hess was one of a group of five who originally bought the New York franchise out of bankruptcy in 1963 and soon changed the name from Titans to Jets and hired Weeb Ewbank as the head coach and general manager. He kept a low profile and stayed behind the scenes while making every effort to give the Jets and their fans first class facilities. After the Jets captured the Super Bowl III championship (Jan. 12, 1969), Hess' dream was a return to the Super Bowl. His hiring of Bill Parcells almost made that dream come through in 1998 as the Jets rang up a club record 12 wins, including their first AFC East championship, but ultimately lost to the eventual Super Bowl champion Denver Broncos in the AFC Championship game. Hess, who started building Hess Oil from his father's one truck heating oil delivery business during the depression and built it into a multi-billion dollar company, became the sole owner of the Jets in 1984. (May 7).

JETS FOR SALE — The Estate of Leon Hess announced that the Jets would be sold as per the wishes of Leon Hess' will. The firm of Goldman, Sachs & Co. was retained to manage the proceedings. The estate announced that Bill Parcells would continue to have complete authority over football operations and that president Steve Gutman would continue in charge of business operations and assist the Estate and Goldman, Sachs in the sale process. The Hess family and the executors will give their full support to Bill Parcells, the Jets players, the entire Jets organization and the many loyal New York Jets fans in the pursuit of a Super Bowl championship season to fulfill the dream of Leon Hess. (May 21).

He became one of only four players to reach that mark in his first five seasons in the NFL. The only other players to accomplish that feat are Barry Sanders, Eric Dickerson and Tony Dorsett. (Nov. 28).

LUCAS MAKES FIRST START — With the offense struggling under Rick Mirer at QB (replaced Testaverde after being acquired in a trade during the preseason from Green Bay), Ray Lucas gets the starting nod from Bill Parcells against Indianapolis. Lucas' end zone interception turns into game losing play and his injury (sprained ankle) sends him to the sidelines for two games. (Oct. 17).

MONDAY NIGHT WIN AT NEW ENGLAND — Ray Lucas returns to the starting lineup and he helps lead the Jets to 24-17 win at Foxboro on national TV with a pair of TD passes as Bill Parcells wins fourth of the six "Tuna Bowls." (Nov. 15).

SANTANA MOSS GARNERS MVP HONORS — WR/PR Santana Moss captured the team MVP honors, as voted by his teammates. The 5-10, 185-pound speedster from the University of Miami scored a receiving touchdown in a club record seven consecutive games during the season. He became the sixth player in Club history to record 10 touchdown receptions in a single season (Art Powell, 1960; Don Maynard, 1965 & 1968, Richard Caster, 1972; Wesley Walker, 1986; Keyshawn Johnson, 1998). Moss led the Jets in receptions (74), receiving yards (1,105), average per reception (14.9, minimum 10 receptions) and touchdowns (10). In the punt return department, Moss had 30 returns for 332 yards for an 11.1 average. He has also chipped in running the ball, with 10 carries for 67 yards. He became just the 11th different Jet receiver to have a 1,000-yard season (Dec. 26).

Weeb Ewbank is the only head coach in professional football history to build two teams from their inception into world champions and was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on July 29, 1978, the 11th coach to be enshrined in Canton. Upon his retirement from coaching in 1973, Ewbank's 130 wins ranked him fifth on the all-time coaching wins list only behind other greats George Halas, Curly Lambeau, Steve Owen and Paul Brown. He is the only coach ever to win World Championships in both the NFL (Baltimore Colts 1958-59) and AFL (New York Jets 1968). Ewbank was on the sidelines for two of the most important games in NFL history, the sudden death victory in the 1958 championship and Super Bowl III, won by the Jets. Ewbank was a college quarterback at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and was a teammate of fellow coaching legend Paul Brown. Brown gave him his first professional football job as an assistant coach of the Cleveland Browns from 1949-53. His first head coaching job came with the Colts, where he won championships in the fifth and sixth of his nine seasons in Baltimore. Ewbank joined the Jets in 1963 as head coach and general manager. The New Yorkers shocked the world by defeating Ewbank's former team, the Colts, 16-7 (the first victory for the AFL in the Super Bowl). Ewbank coached the Jets for 11 seasons through 1973 and stayed on as general manager for the 1974 season. He developed two of the greatest quarterbacks in league history, Joe Namath and Johnny Unitas, as well as other greats Don Maynard and Raymond Berry. NFL Hall of Fame coaches Bud Grant, Chuck Noll, Don Shula, and Chuck Knox came out of Weeb's influence.

JOE NAMATH • QUARTERBACK (1965-76)

Joe Namath, "superstar," is an apt description for this illustrious Jets' quarterback. He was a player who transcended the playing field to become a household name and put a whole league on the map, the AFL. Namath enjoyed a sparkling career and led the Jets to what experts call one of the greatest upsets in sports history when he guided the team to a 16-7 win over the Baltimore Colts, garnering MVP honors at the Orange Bowl in Miami in Super Bowl III January 12, 1969. Despite enduring five knee operations, "Broadway Joe" was one of the game's great quarterbacks and one of its most prolific passers. In 1967, Namath became the first player to throw for more than 4,000 yards, accomplishing the feat in a 14-game season. He still holds most of the Jets' passing records, including single-game marks set when he lit up the Colts for 496 yards and six touchdowns September 24, 1972. For his career, he completed 1,886 of 3,762 passes for 27,663 yards and 173 touchdowns. The $400,000 contract signed by Namath in 1965 gave the Jets and the AFL some much needed credibility and started the team down the road to a Super Bowl championship. His legendary coach from the University of Alabama Paul "Bear" Bryant said, "Joe Namath is the greatest athlete I have ever coached." Namath ended his storied career after spending one season with the Los Angeles Rams in 1977. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame August 3, 1985.

DON MAYNARD • WIDE RECEIVER (1960-72)

When Don Maynard called it a career following the 1972 season, #13 was the all-time leading receiver in NFL history. Over his 13-year run, Maynard caught 633 passes for 11,834 yards (18.7 avg.) and scored 88 touchdowns. Maynard was a four-time AFL All-Star and is a member of the All-Time AFL team, chosen by the Pro Football Hall of Fame. He went over the 100-yard mark in receiving yardage in 50 games (also a record at his retirement). The native of El Paso, TX joined the AFL in 1960 as the first player to sign a contract in Titans/Jets franchise history. Maynard's most memorable game was the 1968 AFL Championship where he caught six balls for 118 yards and a pair of touchdowns (including the game-winner) to send the Jets past the Raiders and into Super Bowl III. The Texas Western (now known as the University of Texas at El Paso) alumnus was enshrined at Canton August 8, 1987.

JOHN RIGGINS • RUNNING BACK (1971-1975)

John Riggins played the first five years of his Hall of Fame career with the Jets after being New York's first-round pick out of the University of Kansas in 1971. He became the first 1,000-yard rusher in Jets history when he gained 1,005 in 1975. "Riggo" totaled 3,880 yards rushing over his five-year Jet career, leading the team in four of those campaigns. Riggins signed as a free agent with Washington in 1976 and was the MVP of Super Bowl XVII, leading the Redskins to victory with 166 yards rushing, including a 43-yard game-winning touchdown run. He played nine seasons for the Redskins (1976-79, 1981-85). Over his career, Riggins ran for 11,352 yards and scored 104 touchdowns. The native of Seneca, KS was enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame August 1, 1992.

* Hall of Fame safety Ronnie Lott played the final two years of his career (1993-94) with the New York Jets.

PLAYOFF HISTORY

1968 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP

DEC. 29, 1968 — SHEA STADIUM, NEW YORK 27, OAKLAND 23

The New York Jets climaxed their finest season in history (11-3) by scoring a 27-23 victory over Oakland. A title game record crowd of 62,627 sat in the chilly and windy proceedings at Shea Stadium and saw Joe Namath toss three touchdown passes. Despite the fact that Namath attempted a record 49 passes, the Jets still mixed their attack. Matt Snell and Emerson Boozer gained 71 and 51 yards, respectively, behind fine blocking from the front line. The Raiders carried the game down to the final minutes before Daryle Lamonica's lateral pass for Charlie Smith rolled free and was recovered by the Jets' Ralph Baker. The victory gave head coach Weeb Ewbank the honor of being the only coach to win titles in both the NFL and AFL.

SUPER BOWL III

JAN. 12, 1969 — MIAMI ORANGE BOWL, NEW YORK 16, BALTIMORE 7

Defying the oddsmakers (17 1/2 point underdogs) and the strength of traditions, the Jets became the first AFL team to win the Super Bowl by rumbling over and through the Baltimore Colts to record a 16-7 triumph. As it was in the AFL championship contest, Joe Namath led the way. The all-pro quarterback directed the Jets' attack flawlessly, driving the team to a second quarter touchdown by Matt Snell (four yards) and three second-half field goals by Jim Turner. Snell had an outstanding game, gaining 121 yards on 30 carries. The defense shared at least as much glory as the offensive unit, intercepting the Colts four times. Randy Beverly picked off two; Jim Hudson and Johnny Sample, one each. The defensive unit harassed Colts' quarterbacks Earl Morrall and Johnny Unitas all afternoon, allowing them to complete only 17 of 41 passes. The victory was the third in World Championship competition in as many tries for Weeb Ewbank and made him the only man ever to coach world champions in both the AFL and NFL.

1969 AFL PLAYOFF

Dec. 20, 1969 – SHEA STADIUM, KANSAS CITY 13, NEW YORK 6

The game was a classic battle of defenses, played in remarkably cold and windy conditions before a sellout 62,977 fans. Through the first three quarters, neither team could penetrate for a touchdown and the score stood at 6-3 for the Chiefs. Jim Turner had put New York out in front, 3-0, with a 28-yard field goal the first time the Jets had the ball, but the Chiefs' Jan Stenerud retaliated with a 23-yarder on the next series. Not until the fourth quarter did the breaks occur. With first and goal on the one-yard line, three cracks, including a Joe Namath bootleg, failed to bring a touchdown. Turner then kicked a 7-yard field goal to tie it, 6-6. Two plays later Kansas City was in the end zone. Len Dawson hit Otis Taylor for a 61-yard pass play to take the Chiefs to the Jets 19. Then Dawson fired the final 19 yards to Gloster Richardson for the only TD of the game. Namath threw 20 passes over the next two Jets' series, but a fourth down incomplection and a Jim Marsalis interception thwarted the Jets and put Kansas City on the road to the world championship.

1981 AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

DEC. 27, 1981 — SHEA STADIUM, BUFFALO 31, NEW YORK 27

In one of the most exciting playoff games ever played, the Buffalo Bills hung on to defeat the Jets, 31-27 as Bill Simpson made an interception on the two-yard line with time running out. The Bills scored on the opening kickoff when they recovered a Bruce Harper fumble and quickly built that to a 24-0 second quarter lead. The Jets rallied in the third quarter to make it 24-13. The game appeared over as Joe Cribbs busted a 45-yard TD to give Buffalo a 31-13 lead with 10:16 left. The Jets refused to die, however, and with Richard Todd at the controls, New York scored two quick TD and were now down 31-27 with 3:44 to go. A swarming defense forced the Bills to go three and out and with 2:36 left and the goal line 80-yards away, Todd started the Jets on their march. They drove to the Bills 11-yard line with 14 seconds on the clock, but Simpson made his game-saving interception and the Jets' season ended.

1982 AFC PLAYOFF

JAN. 9, 1983 — CINCINNATI RIVERFRONT STADIUM, NEW YORK 44, CINCINNATI 17

The Jets mixed solid and hard hitting football with a measure of razzle dazzle on offense and gimmicks on defense to beat the Bengals at Cincinnati in round one of the NFL Super Bowl Tournament. The game was highlighted by Freeman McNeil's 202 yards rushing, the third highest in playoff history, a TD pass from McNeil and a 98-yard INT for a TD by Darrol Ray to secure the win. The Bengals jumped to leads of 14-3 and 14-10 and were threatening to score again, when the Jets' defense might have made the play of the day. Nickel back Johnny Lynn made an interception at the Jets' one-yard line and with McNeil leading the way behind an awesome performance by the offensive line, the Jets surged to a 17-14 lead which they never surrendered. McNeil was the "cannon" being shot by Walt Michaels 22 times for 202 yards and one TD.

HISTORY

NEW YORK 17, L.A. RAIDERS 14

The Jets sprung upset number two in the second round of the Super Bowl Tournament, beating the Raiders to enter the AFC championship game. Richard Todd's 45-yard pass to Wesley Walker set up the winning one-yard TD run by Scott Dierking, but it took a pair of Lance Mehl interceptions in the last three minutes to wrap it up for the Jets. New York jumped to a 10-0 lead on a 20-yard TD pass from Todd to Walker and a Pat Leahy FG, but the Raiders came storming back in the second half to take a 14-10 lead. The Jets came back to take the lead at the 3:45 mark following the Todd to Walker bomb, but the Raiders still had plenty of time. It looked as if the Jets had put the Raiders away when Mehl intercepted Jim Plunkett at the Raiders' 27-yard line with only 2:49 left, but the Raiders got one more chance when they recovered a Freeman McNeil fumble at their own 33 with 2:26 to go. Then Mehl made his clinching interception, and this time, the Jets ran out the clock.

On an extremely muddy field at Miami's Orange Bowl, the Jets and Dolphins waged a defensive battle which ended with Miami on top 14-0 to earn a trip to the Super Bowl. A.J. Duhe was the hero of the game, which saw a total of 12 turnovers, with three interceptions, returning the final one 35 yards for a touchdown early in the fourth quarter. Woody Bennett ran seven yards for the first Miami touchdown on the Dolphins' first possession of the third quarter, capping a 48-yard, seven-play drive following Duhe's second interception. The poor field conditions severely hurt the Jets' rushing attack as Freeman McNeil, who had rushed for 303 yards in the previous two playoff wins, was limited to only 46 yards on 17 carries due to the footing. It was the first time in NFL playoff history that two teams were deadlocked at 0-0 at halftime. The Jets passing game was also hindered as Richard Todd was intercepted a record-tying five times by Miami. The New York defense held Miami to only 198 net yards, intercepted David Woodley three times and forced three fumbles.

1985 AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

DEC. 28, 1985 - MEADOWLANDS, NEW ENGLAND 26, NEW YORK 14

New England came out on top 26-14 in a game that saw the Jets self-destruct. The Jets committed four costly turnovers which led to 17 Patriots points. New England, which went on to win the AFC championship, played an almost flawless game with no turnovers and only one penalty. The Jets were ahead 7-6, and driving late in the second quarter when Ken O'Brien was intercepted on the seven-yard line. New England came back with a TD pass from Tony Eason to Stanley Morgan on a blitz six plays later. O'Brien suffered a concussion on the final play of the half on an Andre Tippett sack and would only play the first series of the second half. Before Pat Ryan could relieve him though, New England added a FG and then scored a TD when the ensuing kickoff was fumbled by Johnny Hector and returned 15 yards by Johnny Rembert. With the Jets trailing 23-7, Ryan came in and directed a TD drive.

1986 AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF

Dec. 28, 1986 – MEADOWLANDS, NEW YORK 35, KANSAS CITY 15

Joe Walton started Pat Ryan to give the team an emotional lift and it got just that from Ryan in addition to a key running play and a three-TD passing performance. The club also received Freeman McNeil's 135-yard rushing performance to spark the Jets' first home playoff win since 1968. Trailing 6-0, Ryan ran a QB draw for 24 yards from the Chief's 33-yard-line on a fourth-and-six play to set up the Jets' go ahead TD. On the first down of the ensuing series, the Jets defense forced a KC fumble and Ryan concluded a 12-play, 47-yard drive with a one-yard pass to McNeil. Just prior to the half, Ryan hit Al Toon with a TD pass for a 21-6 halftime edge. The Jets nailed the victory on the first play of the second half when Kevin McArthur swiped a Todd Blackledge pass and dashed 21 yards for a 28-6 margin. The Jets' defense allowed a season-low 241 yards total offense and had two sacks, two INT and a FR.

1986 AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

Jan. 3, 1987 – CLEVELAND STADIUM, CLEVELAND 23, NEW YORK 20 (2 OTs)

In the third-longest game in NFL history (77:02), Cleveland staged an incredible comeback to send the game into OT before Mark Moseley's 27-yard FG advanced the Browns to the AFC Championship game. With Pat Ryan at QB, the Jets jumped on top 7-0 following a flea-flicker 42-yard TD pass from Ryan to Wesley Walker. Ryan was forced to leave the game in the second quarter with a groin injury and was replaced by Ken O'Brien. Meanwhile, the Jets defense was outstanding holding the Browns to just ten points and 302 total yards until late in the fourth quarter. Immediately after a Jerry Holmes interception, the Jets took a 20-10 lead on Freeman McNeil's 25-yard TD with 4:14 remaining in regulation. Bernie Kosar led the Browns 68 yards to set up Kevin Mack's one-yard run to make the score 20-17 with 1:57 left. Cleveland's defense forced the Jets to punt with :51 left before Kosar's 37-yard pass to Webster Slaughter to the five-yard line set up the tying 22-yard FG. The Jets got a second life when Moseley missed a 23-yard FG 6:06 into OT, but he redeemed himself by kicking the winning 27-yard FG on a first-and-goal play from the Jets' nine-yard line.

Jan. 10, 1999 - MEADOWLANDS, NEW YORK 34, JACKSONVILLE 24

It was playoff football at its wildest. It was a game in which the Jets dominated early, let Jacksonville get back in it, and finally put their foot down to cage the Jaguars 34-24 and earn a trip to the AFC Championship game in Denver. The Jets jumped off to a 17-0 second quarter lead only to see the Jaguars score on the last play of the half. Then they surged to another 17-point lead, 31-14, only to have Jacksonville close to 31-24 with 6:38 remaining. New York got ready to close the cage door again, driving to the Jaguars' 14-yard line, but Vinny Testaverde was intercepted in the end zone and the Jets had to call upon their defense to hold the Jaguars and to set up the offense for the final knockout again. The Green and White defense held the Jaguars on four straight downs and turned it over to the offense for the final shot-a John Hall 30-yard field goal that sent the Jets to their first conference championship game in 16 years. The Jets came out roaring, scoring on their opening drive, a seven-play, 70-yard march capped by Testaverde's 21-yard TD pass to Keyshawn Johnson. In the second quarter, the Jets held the ball for 14:09 and built their lead to 17-0 on Hall's 52-yard FG, a Jets' post-season record for longest FG; and a ten-yard end around run for a TD by Johnson. But the Jaguars didn't go quietly. With six seconds left in the half, Mark Brunell hit Jimmy Smith in stride with a 52-yard TD bomb cutting the lead to 17-7. Early in the third quarter the teams traded TD with Curtis Martin turning a Corwin Brown interception into a TD and Brunell taking advantage of an 88-yard kickoff return and then completing a three-yard TD pass to Keenan McCardell. But the Jets answered that right back with another 70-yard drive culminated by Martin's 2nd TD of the game, a one-yarder on a pitchout for a 31-14 lead. Jacksonville fought right back with another Brunell to Smith TD pass of 15 yards trimming the margin to 31-21. The Jaguars then took advantage of a rare occurrence, recovering a Wayne Chrebet fumble at the Jets' 41-yard line. New York's defense stiffened and Jacksonville had to settle for a 37-yard FG, but the Jags had cut the lead to 31-24. That's when it appeared the Jets were going to tame the Jaguars for the final time, but their four minute drive from their own 34 ended with Testaverde's INT in the end zone, giving the Jaguars one more life, but this time from their own one-yard line. The Jets' defense pressured Brunell into a scramble for seven yards and three incompletions, giving the Jets the ball at the JAX eight. Four plays later Hall made the 30-yard FG. Keyshawn Johnson wiped out the Jags' final chance with an INT on Brunell's Hail Mary. Johnson produced a rare football feat scoring touchdowns on a reception and a run, recovered a fumble and made an interception. The interception was on Jacksonville's final Hail Mary with 20 seconds remaining. The fumble recovery was a big play in the second quarter. The Jets were driving for a score at the Jacksonville 22-yard line, when Martin fumbled. Chris Hudson recovered the ball at the 18 and returned it 42 yards when he bobbled the ball and Johnson recovered it. The Jets then got back in gear again and Johnson concluded the 65-yard drive with his ten-yard end around for a TD. All totaled, Johnson tied a club postseason record for catches with 9-121-1 TD, and tied the club TD mark for postseason TD with two, which was also equaled by Martin. Martin had a big day with 36-124-2 TD rushing and 6-58 receiving for 182 yards from scrimmage. Testaverde was solid as he notched his 13th victory as a starter with 24-36-284-1-1. Jacksonville was led by Smith's 5-104-2 TD and Fred Taylor's 20-86 rushing. Brunell was 12-31-156-3-3. The Jets controlled the ball for 39:16, converting 10-14 third down plays and racking up 29 first downs and 429 total yards from scrimmage. Jacksonville hung in the game with big plays, but the Jets' defense held the Jaguars to only 251 yards.

1999 AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Jan. 17, 1999 – MILE HIGH STADIUM, DENVER 23, NEW YORK 10

Appearing in the AFC Championship for the first time since 1982, the Jets battled the Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos tough all day, but in the end were unable to play the type of mistake-free football that the team had played for most of the season. The Jets, who took the lead on a John Hall 32-yard FG on the last play of the first half, held the Broncos to only 108 yards of total offense in the first half, highlighted by a goal-line stand in the first quarter. The stunned Mile High Stadium crowd was further silenced when in the third quarter, rookie TE Blake Spence blocked Tom Rouen's punt and TE Fred Baxter recovered at the one-yard line. RB Curtis Martin scored on a one-yard plunge on the next play giving the Jets a 10-0 lead. The Broncos came right back on the next series when John Elway, playing in his last game at Mile High Stadium, hit WR Ed McCaffrey with a 47-yard bomb to the Jets' 17-yard line. Two plays later, Elway connected with FB Howard Griffith for an 11-yard TD. The ensuing kickoff, sailed into the teeth of gusting 45-mile per hour winds, and took a Denver bounce and was recovered by the Broncos at the NY 31. The defense held, but K Jason Elam connected on a 44-yard FG to tie the game at 10. Denver got it's first lead 13-10 late in the third quarter on Elam's 48-yard FG. The Jets, who were experiencing success through the air behind the precision passing of Vinny Testaverde, abandoned the running game but were unable to hold onto the ball, fumbling four times and having two other passes deflected into the hands of Denver defenders. Denver widened the margin to 20-10 on Terrell Davis' 31-yard TD with 18 seconds left in the third quarter. Elam closed out the scoring with a 35-yard FG late in the fourth quarter for the final score of 23-10.

2002 AFC WILD CARD PLAYOFF GAME

JANUARY 12, 2002 - NETWORK ASSOCIATES COLISEUM, NEW YORK JETS 24 AT OAKLAND RAIDERS 38

The 2001 team became the first Jets' team to qualify for post-season play under a first-year head coach when they defeated the Oakland Raiders 24-22 at the Network Associates Coliseum the week before on Jan. 6. The next week Head Coach Herman Edwards led his 10-6 Jets back to Oakland to take on that same Raider team. The Raiders began the scoring with a 21-yard Sebastian Janikowski FG, before jumping out to a 16-3 halftime lead. The Jets opened the third quarter with an eight-play, 72-yard drive capped by quarterback Vinny Testaverde's 17-yard TD pass to wide receiver Wayne Chrebet closing the score to 16-10. Testaverde finished the day 27-of-41 for 277 yards and three TD for a quarterback rating of 109.5. With the score still 16-10; Raider's linebacker James Harris and cornerback Charles Woodson forced a fullback Richie Anderson fumble which led to a Raider TD. Down 24-10 the Jets stormed back with a 10-play, 64-yard drive culminating in a three-yard TD pass from Testaverde to Anderson. The two teams traded TD following the Testaverde-Anderson score setting up the game's finale. With 1:49 left and the Jets down 31-24 with two timeouts, the Raiders started their final drive on the OAK 21. The Raiders first two plays netted -1 yard and allowed only nine seconds to run off the game clock. With 1:40 remaining Raider running back Charlie Gardner took a pitch around the right end and raced 80 yards for the game's final TD to knock the Jets out of the playoffs.

2003 AFC WILDCARD PLAYOFF GAME

JAN. 4, 2003 – MEADOWLANDS, INDIANAPOLIS 0, NEW YORK 41

After what they went through to make the playoffs, what a waste it would have been to exit early. That was the message Herman Edwards gave his New York Jets. They heeded it superbly, routing the befuddled Indianapolis Colts 41-0 Saturday. After barely getting into the postseason, the Jets emphatically showed they belong with their biggest playoff victory and their first postseason shutout. Chad Pennington, the sparkplug of their turnaround, threw for three touchdowns, LaMont Jordan ran for two and the defense had Peyton Manning and the Colts off-stride from the outset. "I am so proud of my teammates to see in every one of them that they are not complacent," Pennington said. "To me, it's special when you're able to step in the huddle and see the intensity and focus in the eyes of your teammates." New York (10-7) began the season 1-4, but won seven of its last nine to storm to the AFC East title on the final day of the season. The surge continued against the wild-card Colts (10-7). "This is a breath of fresh air, but it is only the first win on a long road," Wayne Chrebet said. It was their first postseason victory since 1998, when they made it to the AFC championship game, and the score matched the last playoff game at the Meadowlands, when the Giants beat Minnesota for the 2000 NFC title. "I'm 82-0 in my last two playoffs here," said safety Sam Gaines, who was with those Giants. "It definitely feels good to do 41-0 as a Jet." The only more lopsided shutout win in NFL postseason history was Chicago's 73-0 victory over Washington for the 1940 title. This was the first NFL playoff game featuring two black head coaches. The Colts' Tony Dungy and the Jets' Edwards, longtime friends, are the only black head coaches in the league. Edwards spent five seasons as Dungy's top assistant in Tampa before becoming the Jets' coach in 2001. The student came out on top of the mentor because his offense was unstoppable, his defense stingy and his special teams dominant. "I'm just thankful for our friendship and the chance he gave me to stand here and be a head coach," Edwards said. Dungy said he'll be rooting for Edwards' team the rest of the way. "They played awfully well and made us look awfully bad," said Dungy, who took Indianapolis from 6-10 to 10-6 in his first season after being fired by the Bucs. On the Jets' fifth offensive play, Pennington's screen pass floated into Richie Anderson's hands and he rambled down the left side for a 56-yard score. The touchdown was the longest of his 10-year career, the longest this season for the Jets and the longest scoring play from scrimmage in their playoff history. The Peyton Manning-to-Marvin Harrison connection got the Colts moving -- for just about the only time -- immediately after the TD with three completions for 38 yards. But Mike Vanderjagt was short and wide with a 41-yard field goal into the wind. John Hall made one from the same spot early in the second quarter for a 10-0 lead. Troy Walters then fumbled the kickoff and Ray Mickens pounced on it at the Indianapolis 39. Jordan eventually swept left from the 1 for a 17-point lead. It became 24-0 with 37 seconds remaining in the first half when Pennington rolled out and found Santana Moss alone in the right corner of the end zone. Moss grabbed the high throw and barely got both feet in-bounds. In matching their biggest playoff output in a half, the Jets effectively secured their spot in the next round of the playoffs. But they didn't pull back. Chad Morton ran the second-half kickoff 70 yards to the Indy 19, setting up Hall's 39-yard field goal. Rookie tight end Chris Baker caught his first TD pass, a three-yarder late in the third quarter. And Jordan, who rushed for 102 yards (89 in the second half), scored again from the 1 in the fourth period. Manning was a miserable 14-for-31 for 137 yards and two interceptions, and his team had the ball for just 19:42 -- 7:44 in the second half. Manning, who consistently barked instructions to his teammates at the line of scrimmage -- often to no avail as New York's aggressive defense applied steady pressure -- is 0-3 in the playoffs, and this was the worst of those defeats. "I tried to be patient," Manning said, "but I got to be impatient because the more you get in the hole, they more they take you out of your game plan. So I ended up doing a lot of things I shouldn't have." He wasn't helped by six drops and an offensive line that couldn't keep pressure off him. Harrison, who smashed the NFL record with 143 receptions this season, had only four Saturday. "This was more than we could ask for," Jets linebacker Marvin Jones said. "But the job isn't done."

2003 AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

JAN. 12, 2003 – OAKLAND, CA, JETS 10, OAKLAND 30

League MVP Rich Gannon and the Raiders showed why this season might be different from all the others since 1983 with a 30-10 playoff win. They knew the surest road to the AFC championship game was to stay at home and avoid tuck rules and snowy night games in New England. Now they get Tennessee, whom they beat 52-25 at home in September, back at the Network Associates Coliseum for a shot at the Super Bowl. The Raiders have not been to the big game since winning it against Washington in 1984. "These chances are very rare," veteran All-Pro safety Rod Woodson said. "I think we are a mature team that understands what we have here." That chance has been there before -- two years ago, when they lost at home to Baltimore for the conference title, and last season, when Tom Brady and the controversial tuck rule did them in at New England. "WR Jerry Porter caught a 29-yard touchdown pass and set up a Jerry Rice nine-yard score with a 50-yard reception as the Raiders (12-5) made it a clean sweep for the home teams on divisional playoff weekend. Gannon began going downfield in the second half after a 10-10 tie, and it paid off. The Jets had the most efficient thrower in the league, Chad Pennington, but he had a tough day. Pennington, in his first season as a starter, had a 104.2 rating. But against Oakland he was 21-of-47 for 183 yards and a 44.9 rating. "There's a saying that as the quarterback goes, so does the team. I didn't go today," said Pennington, who threw two interceptions -- as many as he had in the last 10 games combined -- and lost two fumbles. "I was struggling all day long. I don't know why. It's one of those things I have to learn from, and have a short-term memory." The Raiders, winners of eight of their last nine games, got pickoffs from Tory James and Eric Barton in the second half. They also recovered the two fumbles by Pennington in earning their second trip to the AFC title game in three years. In the 2000 season, they lost at home to Baltimore 16-3 for the conference crown. "These opportunities are few and far between," said Gannon, who finished 20-of-30 for 283 yards. Rice's catch was his 21st postseason touchdown, tying an NFL record. The 40-year-old receiver also set a record for yards in the playoffs with 2,133 in an 18-year career. Oakland's defense harassed the usually unflappable Pennington and sacked him four times, twice by Rod Coleman. The Raiders beat the Jets for the third time in four games at home in the last year. After a strong first half, Pennington couldn't get on track in the second half, throwing high and, at times, forcing passes. It was the second straight year the Raiders ended the Jets' season here in a playoff game. These teams have had some of the most memorable and bitter meetings in NFL history. The game was tied 10-10 at halftime. But after James' leaping sideline interception at the Jets 45, Gannon went downfield. He hit Brown for 16 yards, then found Porter streaking down the left sideline against a zone defense. Porter caught the ball in stride for a 29-yard touchdown. Oakland stopped the Jets on a fourth-and-3 when wide receiver Wayne Chrebet slipped on his pattern. Gannon then connected with Porter over the middle for 50 yards. It took three more plays for Gannon to hit Rice in the back of the end zone. Richie Anderson dropped a handoff and Pennington was blamed for the fumble. But Damien Robinson intercepted Gannon's next pass. The Raiders returned the favor when Barton made a sideline interception, setting up Sebastian Janikowski's 34-yard field goal. Janikowski added a 31-yarder for the final score. New York (10-8), which scored at least 30 points in each of its last three games, got going early on Curtis Martin's 15-yard run and a 20-yard pass-interference penalty against Charles Woodson. John Hall's 38-yard field goal made it 3-0 about four minutes into the game. A motion penalty on fourth-and-inches at the New York 7 cost the Raiders early, and they wound up with Janikowski's 29-yard field goal to tie it. Then the ball got slippery. As he scrambled, Pennington had it knocked from his hands by Travian Smith, who recovered at the Jets 27. Two plays later, Charlie Garner bobbled a handoff, but guard Frank Middleton fell on it when Jets defensive end John Abraham failed to scoop up the loose ball. It was Garner's first fumble in 387 touches, but it didn't hurt his team. Moments later, Zack Crockett, Oakland's short-yardage specialist, scored his 10th touchdown of the season, from the one yard line. Although the Jets moved well on their next possession, they were done in by more mistakes -- a holding penalty on a long run and a dropped pass. Hall then missed wide right on a 49-yard field-goal attempt. An impressive 81-yard, 7-minute drive on which Pennington was 8-of-9 for 51 yards, tied it with 22 seconds left in the half. He converted four third downs with passes before hitting wide-open Jerald Sowell in the flat for a one-yard score.

WEBB EW BANK HALL

Weeb Ewbank Hall, named in honor of the Professional Football Hall of Fame head coach, is the New York Jets' year-round training facility, ticket office and office complex. It has served as the training complex for the players and coaches since 1974 and the overall franchise headquarters since June 10, 1990.

Located on an 8 1/2 acre site on the North Campus of Hofstra University in Hempstead, NY (approximately 25 miles east of Manhattan), the complex provides players, coaches and staff with the necessary components for daily practice, weekly game preparations, and general overall operations in one functional, state-of-the-art setting.

The complex has undergone several renovations throughout its 28-year existence, most recently including the expansion of the training/treatment areas used by the medical training staff and the installation of Field Turf, a state-of-the-art synthetic grass field used both indoors and outdoors.

In 1997, the complex's football operations were completely overhauled when a polymer teflon air support structure was installed over a 60-yard field. It provides the team with a year-round all-weather, fully lighted facility in which to practice. In addition, the team's former AstroTurf surface field was installed upon the team's move to the Meadowlands in 1984. The fields, which feature state-of-the-art drainage and watering facility capabilities, allow the team to work outside in virtually any weather conditions.

The two-story, 54,000 square-foot Weeb Ewbank Hall houses all offices and facilities. Upstairs at the complex are offices for coaches, accounting, video operations, business operations, pro scouting, college scouting and marketing/promotions/community relations. The upstairs also houses an 85-seat auditorium, offensive and defensive meeting rooms, and classrooms used for positional group meetings.

The ground floor contains a spacious dressing room area with room for 70 permanent lockers, the public relations offices, a media workroom, a media studio, a reception area, ticket operations, equipment operations, a modern weight-training room, a newly designed training room, mail operations and a new players lounge. The locker room also houses a hydrotherapy pool and a sauna.

New York Jets Radio Play-by-Play Announcer

BOB WISCHUSEN

Bob Wischusen is a key component of MSG Network's newsgathering operation as co-host of the MSG's "Talk of our Town" airing Monday-Friday afternoons and Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Wischusen is also entering his second season in the booth as ESPN 1050 and 77 WABC Jets' play-by-play announcer.

Wischusen joined the MSG Network in July 2000 as a key component in the launch of FOX Sports Net's (FSN) ambitious "Regional Sports Report – New York Edition." Before joining MSG, Wischusen served as a host of Jets radio broadcasts on WABC-AM (since 1997) and continues to pitch in with New York Rangers hockey games (since 2000).

Wischusen came to MSG following a five-year run at WFAN-AM as a talk show host and sports news update announcer from 1995-2000. It marked a return to the New York metropolitan area for the northern New Jersey native after working for three years (1993-1995) as a talk show host and update anchor for sports radio WQAM-AM in Miami.

Wischusen's time at WFAN was marked by one of his career highlights when he was working the overnight shift on the evening Mickey Mantle passed away.

The Boston College alum and Union Catholic High School graduate maintained his close ties to the Garden State by calling local New Jersey college football, basketball and baseball games for the Comcast network from 1997 through 2000. Since 1998, he has been called upon by the Westwood Radio Network for its college football and basketball broadcasts.

New York Jets Radio Analyst

MARTY LYONS

Marty Lyons brings the same enthusiasm to 1050 ESPN and 77 WABC's Jets radio booth that he exhibited on the field during his stellar 11-year career with the New York Jets as a member of the New York Jets famous "New York Sack Exchange." Lyons begins his second season as the radio-side analyst.

At the University of Alabama, Lyons played under Head Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant from 1975 to 1978. As a senior, he was named an All-American and the school's Defensive Player of the Decade (1970-80). In addition, he was selected to Alabama football's prestigious Team of the Century.

Lyons was the first round draft pick of the New York Jets in the 1979 NFL Draft. The defensive lineman made an immediate impact on the New York sports scene. Together with teammates Mark Gastineau and Joe Klecko, Lyons helped lead the 1981 Jets to a franchise-record 66 sacks -- a record that still remains today. The "New York Sack Exchange" stood atop the NFL in sacks for the 1981, 1983 and 1984 seasons. Lyons ranks sixth all-time in New York Jets history with 43 career sacks.

Lyons began his broadcasting career almost immediately after his retirement from the NFL in 1990. From 1991 to 1997, he provided commentary for FOX Sports Net's (FSN) Hofstra college football broadcasts. He has been with MSG Networks since 1996. ESPN International hired him to do analysis on their NFL broadcasts throughout 1996 and 1997. He also provided commentary on FSN for New Jersey Red Dogs arena football from 1997 to 1998. Most recently, Lyons has been named the new New York Jets Radio Analyst alongside announcer Bob Wischusen.

While a formidable force on the field, Lyons has made significant contributions off the field as well with his extensive charitable work. For his commitment to the community, he was named NFL Man of the Year in 1984. Lyons is the founder and chairman of the Marty Lyons Foundation, which tries to fulfill special wishes to children diagnosed with a terminal or chronic life-threatening illness. As a tribute to his longstanding charitable commitment, the New York Jets annually present the Marty Lyons Award to the player who gives the most back to his community as selected by the Jets staff. Lyons was the first recipient of this award in 1990.

When not calling Jets football action on the radio, Lyons enjoys playing golf, swimming and spending time with his family. He and his wife, Christine, currently reside in Smithtown, NY with their four children -- Rocky, Jesse, Megan and Luke.

NEW YORK JETS ON THE AIR

The Jets' 2004 schedule will be broadcast on flagship station 1050 ESPN and simulcast on 77 WABC Radio. 1050 ESPN is New York's only all-sports, 50,000-watt radio station. 77 WABC, the No. 1 rated talk station in the country, is a clear channel 50,000 watt station and enters its fourth season carrying the Green-and-White. The Jets are the only team in professional sports to have two 50,000-watt stations airing their games. Both stations will carry the game, pre-game and post-game shows.

"We're pleased to offer our fans such comprehensive broadcast coverage of Jets football," said Jets' President Jay Cross. "We have expanded our broadcasting this season thanks to the strong support of our broadcast partners. We're excited about having a strong radio team in place and looking forward to the great exposure we'll receive from our games airing on 1050 ESPN and 77 WABC as well as our weekly television show featuring Herm Edwards on WCB2-2."

NEW YORK JETS 2004 MEDIA POLICIES

It is the goal of the New York Jets' Public Relations Department to develop and implement policies to achieve organizational objectives in best serving the interests of the New York Jets Football Club, while maintaining a positive and cooperative relationship with the media.

The ultra-competitiveness and intricateness of running a National Football League franchise, both on the field and in the business sector in the no. 1 one media market in the United States, necessitated the development and implementation of these policies.

THE NYSCC: DESIGNING A BUILDING WORTHY OF OUR FANS

When the New York Sports & Convention Center (NYSCC) opens on Manhattan's far West Side in 2009, the Jets and their fans will finally have a home to call their own; a home that they have long deserved. Upon arrival at the new facility in the fall of 2009, fans will embrace a state-of-the-art facility with features like no other sports facility in the world. Although certain elements of the design are yet to be finalized, the New York Sports and Convention Center will match up well with any of the new stadiums that have been built around the league.

Centrally located at 33rd Street and 11th Avenue, fans from New Jersey, Long Island, Westchester or New York City will be able to arrive at the new facility with ease. From New Jersey, visitors will have the option of taking New Jersey Transit trains into Penn Station located just down 33rd Street from the NYSCC site or they will be able to park in commuter lots on the Jersey side of the Hudson and take the quick eight-minute trip across the river to the soon-to-be-opened 39th Street ferry terminal. From Long Island, getting to the game will be as easy as jumping on the Long Island Railroad to Penn Station. For fans coming from within New York City, numerous subway lines stop at Penn Station and the planned extension of the 7 train will extend just steps from the facility.

Although tailgating has been a long and great tradition at Jets games at the Meadowlands, part of the transition to a new stadium that we can call our own will be a shift from the traditional forms of tailgating to new types of pre-game activities. But the shift will be well worth it.

The Hudson Yards neighborhood will offer a wide range of pre-game activities. On all four sides of the building, there will be large public parks ideal for picnicking or tossing a football with family and friends. There are a number of bars and restaurants already located in the neighborhood that are eager to become pre- and post-game destinations for fans, and once construction begins on the stadium, there's no doubt that many more will open.

The benefits of a move to Manhattan only get clearer when you step inside the building. With concourses nearly double the size as those of the Meadowlands, there will be more room to meet friends, modern bathrooms and a broader range of food options. The New York Sports & Convention Center is going to be a place that fans will want to come to earlier and stay later.

Ultimately, fans come for the excitement of live football and the new building will focus on maintaining a great game day experience. In order to ensure that every seat in the bowl has a great view of the action on the field, the Jets hired one of the finest sports architects in the nation to create computer models of the entire seating bowl. Using these seating models, these experts worked to make every seat feel at least as close to the action as they do at the Meadowlands. In addition to great sightlines, the NYSCC will feature a state-of-the-art sound system and four huge video boards making game info and replays easy to see and hear from any seat in the house.

Our fans are a crucial element to ensuring the success of our new home. It is your enthusiasm for the game, your commitment to coming rain or shine and your openness to change that makes you the best fans in the world. That's why we'll be asking for your input over the coming year – come by and check out the oasis areas at the Meadowlands to weigh in and have your say. While there, if you want to show your support on a day-to-day basis, you'll also be able to pick up limited edition merchandise such as bumper stickers and t-shirts letting friends and the public know how you feel about the NYSCC. ■
